I think you guys are doing great, and I'm glad to see Reborn making progress again. Can't wait for the patch that will fix enough glitches to make the game worth playing

You shouldn't link us for "news" to a forum that requires registration. The least you could do is make it not require a log in to view the news.

Decent, never really liked the idea that you used the same model for more then 2 units, but you know, do what you can with what you have...
