Mantis is a bug tracking tool that we are using to track bugs in RenGuard, among other projects.

Please create an account there if you wish to work with our developers to resolve any issues you're having with RenGuard. You will be able to create a unique support ticket for your issue.

PLEASE NOTE that if you want to report a bug that you don't want anyone but the developers to read, simply mark it "Private" on the submission form.

It will be much easier for us to keep track of the status of your problem this way.

Thanks in advance for your cooperation.

your reguard has got me banned on battlefield Vietnam.

I like to thank the cock that made this stupid ant cheat and researched it properly. It has fucked with my punkbuster for 1942 Vietnam causing my cd key to be banned. lol you all think but right now Australia is having a $15,000 comp which we are in the top 5, well I say was, you see renguard got my cd key banned to today and I was, or my clan of ten was going to play tonight. if we win we be in 3rd but now we well, forfeit cant make 10 players to the game, well its all over. so I like to thanks the tossers. but don't get me wrong I am all for ant cheats but when a ant cheat get a non cheater banned you have to be pissed hay.

Yes, way to completely overlook what i said....

And I'm sure we'll all be sued and RenGuard will be shoved up our asses too. EA hates when people don't cheat in their games. And unless your uncle owns EA, I doubt they will care that this happened just to you.

Try executing game2.exe manually and see if you can play with that on non-rg servers.

It looks to me like your renegade installation is not working at all.

A fully working rengaurd / renegade installation has these files:

game.exe
game2.exe
rengaurd.dll

Where game2.exe is renegade. Grab a nocdkey-renegade exe and place it as game2.exe into your renegade directory.

However, RenGuard should refuse to startup with no game2.exe in place.

Get a working always.dbs from one of your friends.
Overwrite it with the one in your data folder, all should work fine after.

sventjuhmy problme is if i want to start renegade to install it it says u must have admin privilges also before i uninstakled renegade..

You need to aquire the Administrator password or have somebody with Admin privilages to log on to your computer.

When in an Administrator account, goto Control Panel > User Accounts.

Find your username, and change this to the Administrator Group in one of the selections.

Log back into your account, you will find this error solved.

So, what has the above just done?

It has told Windows that you are an owner of the computer and you require unlimited access to all files and settings.

If you are still having trouble. Post again with your computer configuration, (e.g. Windows Version, Network Configuration - is it on a domain or home network? or even neither?)

if you remove rengaard, make sure the following are/aren't there:

- game.exe (353kb) - IF there, delete.
- game2.exe (4.20MB) - IF there, rename to game.exe
- rengaard.dll (566kb) - IF there, delete.

then try the rengaard installation again, if it still doesn't work, post here with the exact error message.

Usually you'd just install Renegade, then patch it, install a no-cd crack and then finally install RenGuard. Since you've already installed RG, you'll need someone to send you their cracked game2.exe and possibly even game.exe if RG doesn't work.

Dammit you need to hurry up because I getting kicked from games left and right. I think serves shouldn't be computer controlled as they wont listen to any trying to explain to them what the problem is. Im also starting to think that rengaurd is just one huge misstake. What I am saying is that if they want to cheat they will and to be honest there's nothing you can do aboute it. Because they will find ways around the program I will promise you that. Also kicking people just because they dont run a speciffic download is just plain WRONG and when people complain about the program and it,s bugs you dont respond for a cople days and try to put most of the blame on the user. You need to fix the bugs. You need to run the servers without auomating them. You need to listen. Im fed up with waiting for a response to my post. Im fed up with not being able to enter games because the damm server says Im not run the peice of crap when I truly am and I fed up with your arogance. I want results no failure and if you want to call me an idioty or stupid FINE because I dont care what you think because your the ones responsible for the servers and the program NOT ME.
