A woman, while at the funeral of her own mother, met this guy whom she did not know. She thought this guy was amazing. She believed him to be her dream guy and she fell in love with him right there but did not ask for his number and no matter how hard she tried she could not find him.

A few days later she killed her sister.

Question:

What is her motive in killing her sister?

xptek's answer is right.

I heard of that question before...

Because she thinks that that guy is some relatives or someone, so she hoped when killed her sister and the guy will appear at the funeral, but he didn't came.

I bet she'll hope that if she suicide for that guy to appear at the funeral actually xpetx's answer is the physco answer. Congrats dude you are insane!

The answer is because her sister was dating the guy she loved.....that is why she killed her. It's an evaluation question that a shrink and such like can give you to see if you are either a/ crazy or b/ tend to think about dark or more sinister things then perhaps you should.

Dude im English and i never claimed it was written by a famous american psychologist. My mum had that question on her social and educational paper for her o' levels when she was in school (long time ago) she answered same as xpetx did and her teacher told her she was crazy and then gave her the more common answer above that i gave myself...funny though unless you are calling my mum a 44 yr old liar (i doubt you were born then) then my answer held ground obviously.

We answer by what we know and that is what i know, hence the reason i answered that way. im not saying your right im right everybody is right....its a question that holds no wrong answer really, because if you arent the woman who killed her sister then you cant know for sure and hence cant answer for sure either.

Was I around when your mother was in her "o" schooling? lol.. I'm sure I was. I'm not 'that' old, but if she's only 44, she probably wouldn't feel too uncomfortable dating me, we'll leave it at that.

Did I call her a liar? of course not; you made no mention of her in your previous post, nor before I made my reply. But I do think you're lying... However, since we're on the Internet, I suppose we'll just never know.. I think it's just a little too coincidental that your mother just so happened to actually take a test that has already been debunked as an e-mail myth.. oh well, I won't keep you from believing your own little fantasies; if we took those away, what on earth would you have to live for?

my child and my soon to be husband....but seriously you're right it is the net you dont have to believe me and in the same way i dont have to listen to what you just spouted to me. You think im lying that is your opinion, since i know im not....like i said before, if you're not the person you cant say for sure, congrats you just proved my point.

Im not arguing and i wont contend with your holier than thou thing you have going. E-mail myth? tell me something were emails invented in 1970's? It maybe an email NOW but was it then? i could spout another email myth to you that i recieved the other day that my mum took in PSE exams in England over 20years ago. But again since this is the net and you werent present how could you or anyone for that matter know if i was possibly telling the truth? And i believe i just proved your point too. hmmm spooky

That alone gave me enough incentive to join up. When are you in IRC or on AIM? I'd like to talk to you about something semi-important.

What he's trying to say is that you made up the fact that your mum took a test on it, after it'd been identified as an e-mail myth. Not anything to do with dates.

Also: Why delete AIM when you can just block people giving you hassle?

they werent giving me hassle....more the fact they were there. Besides it's about time i changed my screen name anyway...when i can be bothered, i have yahoo (must delete) msn and xfire (useless) also oh and icq (must delete)

The one i use mainly is Msn because all my other contacts use it over anything else.

Oh and i made nothing up...If i were going to make up a lie i'd say i love Scrumfy!
