This has to do with the recommendation system. This bug I have noticed more and more so over time.

The bot keep giving the MVP recommedation to the wrong person. It is giving that rec to the player the MVP in score. I've seen it happen game after game. It keeps giving it to the second highest scorer in the game. I am guessing this is not intentional and should be fixed. This has primarily occured on eoesvr01 but not limited to there as I have encountered this error on other servers running BRenBot.

Thanks. It's still doing in 01. We are using 1.35. Funny that it's never happened before in other versions...What did you change to make it do this?

I havn't looked at the code yet, and am puzzled by how it could be happening, since that section of the code hasn't been changed at all for quite some time. Ah well don't worry I will debug it.

Ya I've only see this happen lately in version 1.35

maybe the installation got messed up ro something on 01. We've talked to our server admin and no clue whats wrong from that end. I'm gonna try to see if many other servers have this issue as well...

I'm just looking for an update to wether or not this problem has been fixed or not. Or if you haven't had the time to sift through the code to find an error.

I still see this error on a daily basis on most servers that use BRenBot. It would be nice if the system worked properly so that the point of having a recommended player gets the notice they deserve.

I often get my recs stolen away from me, though an extra thing I have noticed if you get all of them it gives them all to you, this is based on that if you were to just get one or two it would give it to the second top placing player in that category.

Good luck Blazer

Out of interest, does this solve the issues we had on both trickery and on the nex FACT server where the bot ignores the best k/d and the most kills recs unless its in a good mood, the wind is blowing from the east, and Mars is in phase with Jupiter (in other words, very rarely does it give anything but MVP)?
