The June 1st initiative is working. We are breaking all kinds of records on every scale that I measure this weekend.

We are now ready to start managing community news. The MOTD you see when you launch RenGuard is not intended for just RenGuard news. Tournament announcements, community-related news, whatever we decide to go with and whatever people like.

We also plan to have this news available for syndication, so other sites can post our news any way they choose.

If you're the type who visits several different Renegade fansites and usually has a good idea of what's going on and where, this position just could be perfect for you.

If you're intested in applying, please reply to this thread and tell us why.

Uhm, as you may or may not know, I visit many sites regularly, n00bstories, The Pits, TwA every now and then. I am aware of many things going on in the community, I can deliver updates directly from the source, such as updates, I can help gamers with problems, pretty much you name something, I will try my best to help our and spread the word.

I also am in many server channels and talk to the members in Fastc0nn, TwA, n00bsvrs, Hazteam, and TwA servers.

Also, some of our translators have slacked off on the job, so we need those of you who speak another language currently supported by RenGuard to sign up even if all you do is translate.

I could translate some stuff to dutch if needed, just to do something for the small dutch community.

Do you mean like people that will represent different sites/communities that support RG?

If you have a fansite, and would like to include the renegade community news (in any of the supported languages) you can easily do that.

I visit many Renegade Fan Sites, so I think I could be good in that area. Also, I know some Spanish and some French, but sometimes I get them kinda mixed up

I was doing the spanish readme until my school took over my life.... I have like 75% completed. I'm too embarassed to ask mac if I can finish it off and send it to him.

I don't want to be the Spanish News poster, cos school is just sucky this month and I don't have time to do much. (I just wanna keep my promise and send him the Spanish readme.... which is almost finished)...
