You log onto WOL and connect to the USA server, there is always at least 1 server there.

You can still go onto WOL if you have gamespy. Just go through RenAlert, instead of gamespy to play online. Log into the USA server, and you will see 1-2 servers up. There are usually people in them. Hope this helps.

No cd key= no game
You can't play online without a valid CD key.

If you have the game, you can play on WOL. IT COMES WITH THE DAMN GAME!

Imdgr8onelf you have the game, you can play on WOL. IT COMES WITH THE DAMN
GAME!Correct, but it's an option in the installation program, it's not an essential component.

Chances are he installed the game with the idea that he wanted to use GameSpy, so chose not to install WOL.

On the other hand, he could just be bullshitting and has a cracked/warez version of the game...

I have the same problem, I had to reformat my computer, but my brother broke my Data disc for Renegade, so I couldn't reinstall it. But I could still install RenAlert, just not connect to WOL. But there is a solution:

Quote:Ok, create a shortcut on your desktop for the renalert game.exe(can be found in westwood\renalert), then name it something like "n00bsvr03", or whatever you want. Then right click on it and go to properties, and in the Target box, type this:

```
C:\Westwood\RenAlert\Game.exe +connect 69.93.110.18:7000 +netplayername "yourname"
```

Make sure the "" marks are there. This is separate from WOL, so it won't count toward your rank, or at least I don't think it will. From in-game, it will look like you're playing on GameSpy, but with a lot less lag.

Anyway, if all is right, when you click on that icon it will take you directly to n00bsvr03.

Posted by Renx, it directly connects you to n00bserv03. Just do that till you get new Serial/Renegade CD.
