I took a moment to read your character info.
Regarding the Mobile Artillery...

Quote:it's not going to last without engineer support for long in a one on one fight against most other vehicles

Quote:it can be difficult to hit infantry close enough to do massive damage due to the inaccuracy of the Mobile Artillery's cannon

Quote:Be careful when taking on enemy tanks with a Mobile Artillery; unless you can outrange them they're probably going to kick your ass

Quote:If you see this happening, the easiest way to remove them is to get a Havoc or PIC Sydney

Quote:Unless you're outside their range, I don't recommend taking on tanks with a Mobile Artillery as you will probably lose

Lol. It's been a while since I had such a good laugh

I wasn't referring to host arty, which is godlike accurate, I was referring to average arty. And yes, I regularly own arties even with regular rifle soldiers or shotgunners, so I tend to have a biased view of their usefulness. Excellent pointwhore tools, but without repair support they tend to crumple under fire.

With good teamwork, a team of 4-8 people with at least 2 Techs to repair can go out and inflict some serious damage. And I mean destruction, not just PWing.

I may as well elaborate

Quote:

it's not going to last without engineer support for long in a one on one fight against most other vehicles

I can take any GDI ground vehicle with an arty ten times out of ten. Med: nine times out of ten. (Unless it's driven by a top CW player, in which case it would be more like four out of ten). And I don't need the range advantage to do it.

Quote:

it can be difficult to hit infantry close enough to do massive damage due to the inaccuracy of the Mobile Artillery's cannon

Bodyshotting infantry with an arty is easy as hell if you're reasonably close. At long distance... well, can't do it every shot, but it's do-able

Quote:

Be careful when taking on enemy tanks with a Mobile Artillery; unless you can outrange them they're probably going to kick your ass

Read the reply to the first quote, it's the same thing really

Quote:

If you see this happening, the easiest way to remove them is to get a Havoc or PIC Sydney

False. If the artillery is piloted by a tech, which it probably will be, a single Havoc or PIC simply cannot win unless he manages to kill the tech, which is unlikely against a good player. The only GDI weaponry a technician can't repair over are: med, MRLS, mammoth and orca missiles. And APC+PIC, but most people don't know what that is anyway

Quote:

Unless you're outside their range, I don't recommend taking on tanks with a Mobile Artillery as you will probably lose

Again, this is virtually the same as the first and third quotes.

Whoever wrote this commentary has never seen an arty piloted by someone who actually knows how to use it Again: You've never seen Priest of B in a tank.

Quote:Bodyshotting infantry with an arty is easy as hell if you're reasonably close. At long distance... well, can't do it every shot, but it's do-able

Note the key word "can", as in "can be difficult". I find it fairly easy to hit any infantry with a tank shell, but that doesn't mean there aren't situations where it is difficult.

Quote:

False. If the artillery is piloted by a tech, which it probably will be, a single Havoc or PIC simply cannot win unless he manages to kill the tech, which is unlikely against a good player. So let me get this straight: You're using utterly circumstantial situations to argue a concrete conclusion. Well, two can play that game. Even if the Artillery WAS manned with a technician, if you're a PIC or a Havoc, or hell, even a Deadeye, if you can't hit the tard when he hops out of his tank, then you lack discipline, friend. It's fairly easy to navigate around the artillery to hit a unit from any angle.

Quote:Whoever wrote this commentary has never seen an arty piloted by someone who actually knows how to use it

I hope your referring to your own commentary, because you have generally no idea what you're talking about.

The only thing easier to body shoot with then an arty is a med...Yes it is hard sometimes in a shit ass warp server but generally its easy. If the server is good you will get the same splash as the host. A pic/havoc will never beat a arty by itself if the driver has a tech, and no your not likely gonna kill him from range cause he can just hide. Its like a med can never lose to a light if it has a hotwire.

I think it's pretty obvious you're a moron. This wasn't meant to be the most l33t STRATAGIS NAD TIPS 4 WININ EVAR, it was meant to be a guide for people who have or have not played the game so that they know some basic info on what a vehicle/character can or cannot do. If I handled every possible situation that could arise, each character's section would be 10-15 pages long. I'm not going to do that, although we may go more in-depth on the map specific pages if we decide to do those.

The real question here: if you are so godly at this game, why are you reading a basic guide for it?

There is no misinformation. Just because you say there is, doesn't mean that it exists. Also, throwing hypothetical situations such as your technician senario doesn't change the fact that a Havoc or PIC could quite easily destory an artillery in a pinch.

wait, spoony, i don't understand. you're saying that we're wrong to say "Be careful when taking on enemy tanks with a Mobile Artillery" but then you yourself claim that against a good med tank you can't even win half the time.

nobody cares if you think you're really good with an arty and you can kill all the newbie no-skill tank drivers. hell, i regularly kill stealth tanks, light tanks, and flame tanks with an apc. that doesn't mean an apc is awesome against those tanks; it just means that the drivers in the tanks suck. (note: i didn't mention artilleries here because apc's actually ARE pretty good against artilleries, even if the arty driver is decent.)

if you're a lot better than another player, you'll win in a 1v1 vehicle fight most of the time regardless of the vehicles involved. skill matters a lot more than what character or vehicle you have.

i'll admit that a very experienced artillery driver can be a scary thing. but personally i think a very skilled med driver is even scarier -- almost as destructive and a helluva lot harder to kill.

it would be irresponsible to write that mobile artilleries can easily destroy any vehicle in the game, because that's not really true. the simple fact is that mobile artilleries can do massive damage, but they can also be destroyed quite easily. and as you said yourself, in a 1v1 fight, a good med tank will beat a good arty more often than not.

I'm not talking about "good" med drivers. I'm talking about the best med drivers.

By the way, I was in the FUD memorial server the other day. Before the inevitable ban, it was myself on GDI vs two Nod players on Field (one of whom was N00b1rus, who I suspect is actually a FUD player smurfing). I had a med on the field, they both rushed me at the same time with 2 artilleries and they couldn't even take half my armour away before they were destroyed.

Purpose of this tale is to explain the kind of players FUD are usually pitted against Usage of a vehicle is opinion and as such is unlikely to be highly inaccurate as it will differ from person to person. Damage info is factual because it can be tested and verified and will be the same in every single situation.

Irony implies that I am passing off more misinformation, which I am not. All actual errors which have been reported to me have been corrected, and as far as I can tell now the data itself is good to go. The rest is an opinion. I find artilleries to be of little use in tank-to-tank combat without a lot of support because they're fragile. Granted, I could own anyone using an arty if I so chose, but I would prefer to be on foot or in a med/ST/LT.

You have implied that you think you're pretty hot shit from your posts and your sig. I don't think I need any more than that to come to the conclusion that you think you are so. Whether you may or may not be is not my problem, but if you want to go write some strats for I33t people feel free.

I highly doubt this story, as you've been banned already before, and there is no one in my clan who plays as N00b1rus, either as a main name or an alternate. Furthermore, there is no "N00b1rus" in clan FUD, nor is it an alias of any of FUD's members.

Compared to saying a mammoth kills a building in 14 seconds, I hardly think the omission of a letter from a nick is such a hideous mistake.

Believe whatever you want. It was your server. It was the nick CEspooky. It was the same IP as before. It was after you banned me. Those are the facts.

You might want to ask the person who banned me the second time (I.E. the game with N00b1us). I'm not sure who that was, but there was an admin message saying something along the lines of: "CEspooky is also known as thexorb and xxd0mexx. He is banned forever"

I think Icesword summed it up better than I ever could Prox also makes a fair point. FUD being FUD, and thus unable to accept how wrong they are about any given point. I mean, for a clan that thinks they know everything, they sure are wrong a lot

If we're so wrong, why not go off and make your own character information charts. You know, Spoonyrat's version, where Artillery are the BESTASS UNIT EVAR. Then we'll talk about misinformation, m'kay?

We never claimed to know everything. We have been wrong before and are willing to accept that and correct whatever the problem was, as has already been evidenced with the pages. You, on the other hand, like to put yourself on a pedestal above everyone here. I fail to see how you have any room to critique us.

That's not what you said in your goodbye speech. If I recall, that was something more along the lines of "We are the true masters of Renegade, nobody compares to our strategic excellence" despite the fact you've never really played anyone decent, so you wouldn't really know, would you?

I don't think you read the entire thing. You must have stopped after we said most of the people in this community were idiots, which is still a statement I stand by and which has actually been reinforced by our little sojourn back here for some info. I believe the general idea of the post was that we were tired of innovating techniques when no one else does. I've seen how members of your clan play, and I already know I could easily win tons of clan matches just by pointwhoring. Frankly, if I wanted to do that all day I'd just tape my mouse button down, point my vehicle at a building, and go to work, because winning games like that is incredibly boring and requires no skill. I don't need to play everyone to know this, because I've played with or against just about anyone who claims to have skill at some point in my tenure here. Some people have impressed me, and they know who they are, but I'd say in general most of the people who play this game lack discipline and thus we don't associate with them.

I'm done with this thread, because you are going to sit here and run in circles with your mind until you read what you want to, and frankly the minute I spent typing this post up was a minute better spent elsewhere. If you have something legitimate you'd like to discuss then PM me, otherwise you should accept the fact that we don't like you and move on.

Not against anyone decent. You could get the best 6 FUD players and pit them against any 4 players from +FE+, DA-... or +CE+... and they'd get basekill on you in ten minutes

Well, maybe ten minutes is an exaggeration but they'd still beat you without trying

Lol. Out of maybe 10 or 15 games I've played on the FUD servers, I have lost exactly one. And that was when Mahkra (or Zoogler or possibly someone else, but they seemed to be the only Fudders in-game) kicked two rushing Nod players so they could steal their flametanks. (Map was Complex)

The other name I played on was DrHavocJR. In fact Mahkra himself complimented me on some fine destruction on CityFly (Obviously oblivious to who I was)

I can only recall playing on the fud server once. Im pretty sure it was on my Mutant205 name prly about 18 months ago.

I have never even considered joining that piece of crap server sense then. From what i hear only n00bs play that server therefor there is no decent competition. If i remember correctly the one time i did join the server it laged like a bitch. I dunno maybe it was just me.

This is why I thought you worthless FUD n00bs were long gone.
This is from awhile ago- http://www.n00bstories.com/n00bfile\_view.php?id=3880&search=giz

The "goodbye" post by you and several other FUDtards includes such wonderfully insightful gems as:

Quote:I'd say about a good 90% of you I've haven't had the bad fortune of coming across. But I dislike you all nonetheless.

and (this one is from YOU, Deathgod)

Quote: I truly feel that people who are devoting a generous portion of their time to keeping this game alive are wasting their time...

Quote:I'm sitting here trying to think of something to say to all of you that sums up the way I feel about you, and I can come up with nothing more appropriate than this: Fuck yoU, Die.

FUDn00bs are actually hilarious if you can just away from their server. I think we will install FUDGuard at Fastc0nn, Pits, and n00bservers just to make sure you twits don't join and lower the level of gameplay... ha.

For the record: Gizbotvas does not speak for the entire n00bstories community.

I've had lots of fun in the FUD servers, although I have received the BanHammer on various occasions from taskbot and Priest. The servers are there for the intent of having fun, mostly at other people's expense (sp?), which is why FUD is so hated.

We aren't ones to tell someone how to run a server. Take WhitexOps' server, for example. Next to taskbot, he's possibly the most reported person on n00bstories, yet people STILL play on it.

The FUD servers are here to stay. As Priest said, whining isn't going to stop them from having fun.

Giz, I don't bother going to those servers anyhow because when I do it's not much of a challenge

We're neither hateful or bullies. Bullies seek people out and make their lives miserable. All we do is remove unwanted elements from our server. We're also not hateful, we're just realists.

Spoony, saying you've never lost a game on a public server is a lot like saying in a contest full of retards, you came out on top. That still makes you king of the retards. I can honestly say that probably the only person in our clan who's played a "game" with you was mahkra, and he was waiting for more people to join so I can't say I am surprised at his lack of concern for the game. Keep flattering yourself, champ.

Okay, I know I said I was done posting in this thread, but I'm getting sick of spoony's blatant lie being passed off as the truth:spoonyratl have NEVER lost a game on the FUD server. (Except that time I've already mentioned, when -presumably- mahkra kicked two rushing Nod players so he and Zoogler could jack their flamers)I have NEVER banned people to steal their tanks (except teammates, of course, but the tanks were actually mine in the first place, which is why the people got banned), so I don't know what the hell you're talking about here.

Side note:m1a1_abramsthey're still the same hateful bulliesActually, the bullies of Renegade are those uberfags who just go around crashing people's servers and making them disconnect from WOL.

Okay, back to spoony:spoonyratWhen I say "I have never lost a game on the FUD server" I should probably replace that with "I have never come anywhere CLOSE to losing a game on the FUD server" I think it's funny that you point out things like this but don't tell the whole story. For example, in that one game you mentioned (the one on city_flying, when you were apparently using a different name), I WAS ON YOUR TEAM. And I destroyed even more of the Nod base that game than you did.... I don't really understand how you winning a game WHEN I'M ON YOUR TEAM means you're better than me. Especially considering the facts that (1)your orca never would have survived in the Nod base if I hadn't been repairing it for you, and (2)I did better that game than you did.

and, finally, icesword:IceSword7No one likes you guys at all.This is simply not true. But even if it were, we wouldn't really care. I mean, honestly, do any of us give a damn what random people on the internet think of us? I sure hope not...IceSword7You guys suck at renActually, in that city_flying game spoony mentioned where he was playing as DrHavocJr, he complimented me as well. And I get invites to join clans all the time.... You can think whatever you want, but in all honestly, people rarely criticize (and often compliment) my play until they realize I'm in FUD. Then all the sudden they hate me and think I suck ass... funny how that works....IceSword7And you have never done anything for the ren community besides keep your crappy server up.Well, we do have a relatively thorough information database up as well... I don't see you doing anything like that. (Also, I bet 99% of "the community" has done NOTHING to benefit "the community." Running a public server is a lot more than most people do.)

The French have a government agency dedicated to maintaining the "integrity" of the French language so words like "Big Mac" don't come into common usage in French dialogue.

Italian Pizza is based more on the concept of cafe style dining, and taking forever to eat. You will NEVER see it in a box, and it sure as hell will NOT be delivered to your house. It's good if you aren't in a rush, and have a waiter bringing you "beverages" every five minutes.

KIRBY098I hate to say it, but Europeans in general are far too uptight about "culture".

The French have a government agency dedicated to maintaining the "integrity" of the French language so words like "Big Mac" don't come into common usage in French dialogue.

I wholeheartedly agree with the French on that one... I think they have a great language, and if we took as much pride in our culture as they did I think America would be a much nicer place as a whole.

While I see your point, Elitism tends a society towards the type of stagnant inbreeding that causes mediocrity, not greatness.

mahkral have NEVER banned people to steal their tanks (except teammates, of course, but the tanks were actually mine in the first place, which is why the people got banned), so I don't know what the hell you're talking about here.

I'm sure there was a perfectly valid reason you banned two enemy players. And I'm sure it was a complete coincidence that they both happened to be in your base with flame tanks. And I'm sure the fact that yourself and ZoogLer rushed the Nod base immediately after was equally coincidental :rolleyes:

You're either lying or your memory fails you

FUD being reported over and over again on n00bstories doesn't mean much. Hell, I've got nearly as many n00bstories about me as Taskbot has about him. And the only ones that are actually true are the ones I wrote myself

On their "goodbye" speech, one FUD member (I forget who) said it didn't matter that they were despised because they were despised by idiots (The community). In a similar vein, when players like IceSword7 or myself are said to "suck" by players as unskilled as FUD, it actually makes us realise we aren't that bad after all.

EDIT: on reflection, why deny? Yes, I do think I'm good. I'm willing to prove it to anyone who doubts?

Because of your fabulous mind, and infallible logic to continue this worthless debate on your attempt to flame a legitimate, and useful website showing others how to play the game better, and balance thier combat more effectively.

I just can't resist circular logic debates.

I repeat, spoony, this NEVER happened.

As I said earlier, I do NOT ban people to steal their tanks. Occasionally I do ban someone who just happens to be in my base in a tank. When that happens, though, I don't take the tank; I destroy it. I have no desire to win a game by kicking enemies and taking their vehicles.

That's how I know your story isn't true. Even if there were flame tanks in my base and I banned the drivers, I would not have used the flame tanks. That's just not my style.

So like I said before, this story is simply a lie. It's either completely made up, or you've got me confused with someone else. Maybe you were really playing on some other server (like when you thought you were on my server *after* you'd been banned) and got confused about people's names (like when you thought "N00b1us" was "N00b1rus").

Word of advice, spoony: you shouldn't throw accusations around like this unless you can actually back them up. The more stories you make up, the less likely it is that people will believe ANYTHING you say in the future...

If you STILL don't believe the N00b1us game was on your server, why don't you ask each person you've given RenRem access to? Since one of them banned me with the amsg "CEspoony is thexorb and xxd0mexx and is now banned forever!" (Or similar words to that effect)

I'm sure if you spoke to all your admins, one of them will enlighten you.

Hey, if you say it was on my server, then fine, maybe it was. What I don't believe is that it was AFTER I banned you. Because back when you originally mentioned this nonsense I checked the logs from after I banned you and I found no mention of CEspoony.

This is really just a moot point anyway though. You were banned, so *if* you got back on the server without changing your name/IP, all it means is that the Renegade FDS program is even more buggy than I'd thought (which says a lot, because I already think the program sucks ass). It has absolutely nothing to do with the point of this thread, which is the appropriateness of FUD's mobile artillery description on the informational pages at fudonline.

I think we've clearly established that there's nothing wrong with the artillery description on the FUD pages, though, so why don't we all just find something better to do with our time and stop flaming each other with useless garbage that nobody can prove one way or the other anyway?

I don't disagree this thread became spam a while ago.

Although, just to check something, I just joined the Fud haclens server as CEspoony without changing my IP and was not banned.

That's actually a different server. Mine's down now because I graduated & had to move out of the dorms. I *thought* they had copied my banlist over, though.... how curious...

Anyway, I've still got a copy of the banlist from back before I shut the server down. I'm curious to know if your current IP is the same as the one on the banlist.... But I don't think it would be appropriate to simply post your IP in a public forum.... I guess I could PM it to you. If I do that, will you check to see if it's the same?

KIRBY098An epiphany?

Not really...

Here's what I said all the way back on page 2 (after which I actually managed to stay out of everything for over a week):mahkrabut whatever. i'm done talking here. i've clearly demonstrated your stupidity, so i will take my leave of the ren forums for a while again. i have better things to do with my time than argue about how many times you've been banned from FUD serversand here's what I just said:mahkral think we've clearly established that there's nothing wrong with the artillery description on the FUD pages, though, so why don't we all just find something better to do with our time and stop flaming each other with useless garbage that nobody can prove one way or the other anyway?

So you see, I'm kinda just repeating myself, only in different words. Though I guess the whole "being polite" bit might be considered an epiphany by some...

We were moving along perfectly fine without your interjections, pal.

I copied over the banlist, but I don't think it's being recognized properly because I've seen quite a few people that I had banned before and that I saw on the list who are on the other server. This just means I get to ban them again, so that's OK by me.
