This is the biggest forum flood I have ever seen on the WW forums, even bigger than the beta test flood.

Ok then, i will explain to you people what a "flood" is. A "flood" is when a forum or other type of online community has a large surge in the amount of people participating in the discussions. Usually triggered by a major event, like the beta test, the number of members jumped from about 1500 to over 4000 in a few days. That was a big "flood" at the time because the number of people nearly tripled. There were newbs going all over the place. So it was like a "flood" of newbs. Now, since WW released these mod tools, the number of people is about 15000. I have only seen one person on this mod forum whose member number is below 1500, other than me. That is what I mean by a "flood".

ok then now that you explained what you meant by flood, yeah there is a big one... but I don't think the actual posts have picked up too much since people started modding with the c130drop file and stuff i thought you meant flood as in a lot of topics coming in. Not users. Hmmm... capitalizing that N made it seem weird. a cap N seems very... mean. anyways, i thought you meant topic flood.

yeah, I kinda joined up in the community after the mod forum was created... but then again I joined up as soon as I heard about renegade which was after it was released (which was about the time the multiplayer demo came out I think)(yeah it's true, I haven't been a huge C&C fan like a lot of you) then I tried out the multiplayer demo and ordered renegade that weekend
