caked on mud around the feet that every picture of the Titan features. Also it appears that the number on the left leg is repeated down on the right leg.

Funny, I was about to say the same to you.

There's nothing to it to make it look like metal. Also, have you ever taken a look at a child's toy?
They're generally scratched up and have dirt deep into the scratches.

I run errands for my dad and I always end up picking up metal pieces and slabs of metal. I know what metal looks like. That pos texture is NOT metal.

The model looks good, but I liked the other one better (not the one in the current version, the other new one). I really don't care about authenticity to a cutscene most people don't remember, I think these mods would be better if they took the units basic look and utilized artistic integrity to make it look as good as possible while still bearing resemblance to the original.

Ok model fixes...

Feet, way too huge
Exost on the top (square one) too small vertically.
Legs, not modeled properly, need to redo em.
Gun, needs to move back a bit, too far up.
Gun barrel, too long.

Texture wise...

Needs re work. It honestly does look like plastic.

Here is a good tutorial for metal making metal texture. Here are some tutorials specifically designed for game model texturizing.

I made a titan a while ago, i did not skin it tho. It was made for Tiberian Aftermath.

If you want to take a look than here...

Picture01
Picture02
Picture03

The texture is quite different from TS' cutscenes, but i like this better. I think the model is pretty accurate to the one used in TS.

I think plastic units are the most accurate of them all... Look at our cars, who will make our weapons of war for the future during World War 3. Now back in WW2 when Ford transformed its plants to tank construction, steel cars meant steel tanks. When Kia or Scion transform their plants, we're gonna have plastic tanks and vehicles with cold cathode LED's inside and with the nearby explosion of an incoming shell are launched hundreds of feet into the air. This is our future... All our tanks will have big mufflers, a useless drag racing spoiler, and a sticker that says L1ek My Other Carzes 2 F@st 4 J00!

If "Reborn is greater than Renegade Alert" why is it that we've had well over 350,000 downloads, along with several dedicated servers and over 2,000 unique players per month?

Yet there's like 5-10 people who play Reborn a month.

My name isn't "ACK," either. If my name is "ACK" then I'll make sure your name is remembered as "Idiot," but then again enjoying Reborn already gave you that title...

The Titan looks like plastic. I happen to build plastic vehicle models in my spare time, and that looks just like it.

<http://www.deviantart.com/deviation/9693728/>

Compare my M1A1 Abrams to his Titan. Notice how similar they are in surface appearance? The Abrams isn't painted, it's simply got water-paint dilution effects for dirt, oil, etc on the surface of it.

The Titan looks like misproportioned plastic. As such, it looks like ass.

I'm guessing the only reason why you hate RenAlert is because you associate RenAlert with Aircraftkiller. That would be the wrong way of going about it. Don't just play it and say, "this sucks." Play it and explore the fucking thing.

Did you fail English or something? Aircraft is one word. It is not "AirCraft," it's simply "aircraft." Shit, I slept through English and I still know more about it than you seem to...

The statistics aren't biased. And as for gameplay, once again, if it was such shit - no one would play it. Like Reborn, because few (if anyone) actually play it.

I too, dislike renalert. Not because of Aircraftkiller, but because of the gameplay. I dont like the fact that as soon as you lose a building you are almost guarenteed to lose whereas in renegade you can make a comeback. Also, when the Allies get a few longbows they are almost unstoppable as one hind cant take down one in one pass even if all the ammunition hits, but vice-versa, the longbow can take it out in one pass.

So you dislike it because of two things, whereas I dislike Reborn because of about 30 different issues including its idiotic "mod team."

Longbows are meant to be used in groups. This is why they have limited ammunition, and must be rearmed at the Helipad. You're complaining because they used teamwork to win the game?

If you lose a structure, you're not "almost guaranteed" to lose unless your team is incompetent. You can win with Rifle Soldiers, they damage buildings pretty well from the exterior and the terminal inside. They also do good damage against the Service Depot, Helipad, etc... But complaining that the enemy team owned you with teamwork? That's silly, the entire game was based around that premise.

I know that they are meant to be used in groups, but at the moment there isnt much that can be done to stop them, or at least not that I have seen anyway. They tend to deliver their payload and manage to go before they have taken 50% damage. I think the Soviets need to have some sort of anti-aircraft unit. A longbow can easily unload its rockets then get out of the base before a single tesla trooper can take it down. The longbow can unload its rockets in 6 seconds, but it takes much longer than this to destroy it. I know I know, teamwork is needed to defend the base, but how are you supposed to get your teammates to attack the same helicopter that you are? By the time you type out "attack nickhere" the longbow will have gone. But a Hind takes 17 seconds to unload its ammo. A rocket solder can kill it in 10 seconds when all the rockets hit. An engineer should be in the building? Not many people are very willing to spend 500 credits on a unit that they only have 1 shot with, and they probably wont bother going to attack an enemy structure with it.

You clearly haven't played as the Soviets enough if you think that they need anti-aircraft units. Ever used the Mammoth Tusk Missiles, or the Tesla Tank, or Volkov, or V2s?

If anyone needs anti-aircraft, it's the Allies, but as they don't, then no one does.

The allies do have anti-aircraft units, they're called Rocket Soldiers. Its actually pretty hard to hit a helicopter with a V2 or Volkov, you can just go up to dodge a V2 missile, and you can just go higher and dodge Volkov's cannon. Also, once a longbow gets on top of the mammoth then the missiles cant turn fast enough to hit it.

I've been visiting this forum for almost a year now, although I registered months later. But one thing.. (no offence) Everything what Reborn makes, it doesn't matter what it is, you continue to say it's crap. Even if they improved it. I have to admit I like certain models of Reborn better than RenAlert. But RenAlert beats Reborn in some models. I'm not going to side with 1 of the mods. So don't title me as "Reborn lover" or something like that.

Fair enough. As you can see then he isnt exactly getting it done. Maybe you would like to lend a hand in telling him how to go about making the texture seem less like plastic. What steps you would do to make it seem more like the way you want it? I see that the Titan doesnt look the way I invision it. Hell, if I were to texture it, it would look like a 5 year old with crayons. Renadrin is the best/only texture person we have at the moment. GDI disk thrower

GDI jumpjet

Nod light infantry

Nod elite cadre

Sensing the themes here? Just FYI none of the characters are exactly the same. With this theme at hand, why would you think other characters (not the mutants and cyborgs) would look all the much different?

Now that are got a character modeler, things may change in the future.

Aircraftkillerevery vehicle looks like plastic or concrete, and all the buildings look like garbage.

The titan is metal, however it has been painted over, and when it has been painted over it loses its metallic look unless metallic paint is used, which I doubt it would be as the titan is a mass produced fighting machine and metallic paint is expensive...soooooo the paint used would probably be the same kind of paint used on cars which, if you look closely, has a plastic look.

AircraftkillerIf "Reborn is greater than Renegade Alert" why is it that we've had well over 350,000 downloads, along with several dedicated servers and over 2,000 unique players per month?

Well at the most, it exists 35000 wol account, if you add gamespy or other stuff, we might reach 40000...

310000 downloads too far... Did you downloaded all that ?

I don't care what Dante does, he's not a part of this place anymore and whatever he's working on won't get finished for a really long time. He also tends to be a bit flaky so I'm not counting on it being finished.

The Forward Command Post does need a few more portions of work done to it, but by no means looks like a Barbie house. Are you blind to the difference between red and pink? It looks just like the SHP file I posted with the images before, and as far as I'm concerned I couldn't give less of a rat's ass about what the building was made after, that's how it appeared in the game and that's how I want it to look in RA.

lol, I never created cheats to publically release them you fucking idiot... I made a few of my own tools to fuck with the BC servers, that was it. They all stay on my hard drive, I refuse to give them to anyone because the quality of the cheats I create would devastate servers WOL\GSA wide.

"Rohirrim" probably blows ass if he thinks I cheat to win games. I played often and had a large KD ratio, kill count, and point count. It's called almost three years of experience, champ... Maybe if you spent less time whining, and more time getting better, you'd know what skill is...

Just speaking my mind... but I don't see how Dante is "flaky". This time around it seems like he'll follow through with the mod. The plans are alot better and he's picking up a very good team this time.

Now you can go back to flaming each other..

Perhaps if you spent less time whining here, and fixing that monotonous, boring, group of welded boxed then perhaps you would achieve some quality of your own.

As always the tiles never cease, and the lovely orange velvet texture add's a nice cloth finish to a Command Centre.

Whine about Reborn after you've made your own work look somewhere near decent. :rolleyes:

Now you're colorblind too... How can you mistake red for orange?

Furthermore, if you even look at the reference image, it's supposed to be a collection of extruded box shapes. That was what it was, and that's what it will stay as... Changing it to be something else would be, as they say, pulling a Reborn - making it like a steaming pile of shit.

Oh, and thanks. The textures shouldn't cease, since if they did they'd appear to be square blocks of tile on the exterior.

Yet again this is totally irrelevant to the point that Reborn sucks, has shitty quality and has a poor "mod team" working on it... Maybe you should address that instead of worrying about RA and myself.

AircraftkillerDid you fail English or something? Aircraft is one word. It is not "AirCraft," it's simply "aircraft." Shit, I slept through English and I still know more about it than you seem to...

Your one word logic doesn't apply. Air and Craft are two words that have their own meanings anyway...

Should I just call you A?

Well, I'll certainly vouch for the fact that you slept through English. That you know more about it than AK I will not.

You think Aircraftkiller is one word? Look it up in the dictionary. Is it there? No, guess what, you just got owned by a book!

So if it's not in the dictionary, it's not a useable word?

I didn't know that individual names go into dictionaries. I tried searching for Sniper12345 and it wasn't there.

Duh . He didn't say that they were, he said that they weren't. Lol, are you trying to show off your lack of reading comprehension?
