Quote:[14-08|12:26] <IAMCURRENTLYWATCHINGDVD> FMzunnie, are the PTs fixed after the current game is over?

[14-08|12:33] * IAMCURRENTLYWATCHINGDVD is now known as Silent_Kane

[14-08|12:48] <FMzunnie> no

[14-08|12:48] <FMzunnie> must restart server :/

[14-08|12:48] <Silent_Kane> I don't see how that would be possible

[14-08|12:48] <FMzunnie> i think.. not 100% sure

[14-08|12:48] <FMzunnie> unless: the guy was still in game when the map was gameovered

[14-08|12:49] <FMzunnie> after restart he probably wasnt

[14-08|12:49] <FMzunnie> until he joined again

[14-08|12:49] <Silent_Kane> The only way I know to turn the PTs off is hitting them with some special ammo type, which kills them

[14-08|12:50] <FMzunnie> thats what he must be using then..

[14-08|12:50] <FMzunnie> its fuckin annoying

[14-08|12:50] <FMzunnie> and i think its also possible on RG servers actually

[14-08|12:51] <FMzunnie> the first 10 seconds they can cheat

[14-08|12:51] <FMzunnie> be4 renguard kicks them

[14-08|12:51] <FMzunnie> RG should just kick them on-join if they dont have it

[14-08|12:52] <Silent_Kane> You could attach scripts to the PTs that makes them unkillable

[14-08|12:53] <FMzunnie> Maybe put that in the CP1 then? If possible that is..

[14-08|12:53] <FMzunnie> i dont think every server owners is able to do that.

This 'hack' is VERY annoying. It just disables the PT's for everyone in-game if some n00b joined the game who has it.

This needs server side fixing. I think putting this into the CP1 is a good idea. Not every server owner knows how to fix this.

And even with RenGuard on the server they can still exploit this because RG kicks them after about 10 seconds. Plenty of time for these hardcore morons to fuckup the whole game.

I think i have made a fix for it now, thanks to silent kane for telling me what to do. Only i dont have this n00b-hack so i cant test it. We'll have to wait and see. If the PT-crashes stop now suddenly i guess it worked then.

The problem lies with the pct_zone_gdi and pct_zone_nod presents. Both use the Blamo skin so people can simply change their guns to Blamokiller and kill them. A quick fix would be to create a script that just makes them invulnerable. Wouldn't be too hard to do at all. It would be server side as well.

Hello all! I'll try to bring a little contribution for detecting this hack.

We had numerous reports of this PT hack during the last days on our servers. I went into one of those games and maybe found out the way to discover this type of cheater : they have a nul (non-existent) score. I provide an image for that purpose.

Since I'm pretty new to IRC, I can't figure out if a bot can detect that anomaly. Also I'm not 100% sure this nul score is a result for the PT hack only, your advises would be welcome.

Edit : It is a wrong assumption as mentioned in few next posts. Please disregard this "NUL SCORE" theory. Those circled dashes are actually showing up "Credits"

Cheers!

That dash in the screen shots doesn't depict their score, it depicts there credits. Because you're on GDI, you can't see it so theres a dash. With the first one you have circled, they have a score of 1834, and the second has a score of 91. They are just messed up because of the long names.

There is no specific "PT Hack"...its just an objects.ddb modification similar to final renegade, if you change a weapons ammo to a specific one, it will destroy vehicles and infantry in one shot. It will also kill PT's and enemy mines in one shot. This is nothing new. RenGuard stops this.

I was also wondering how an avowed "anti-asshole" like yourself just goes around picking fights whenever you feel like it, sounds like a conflict of interest?

I admit that it does seem like a conflict of interest, but then again I don't remember anyone ever saying that joining BHS meant that you had to stop using anything you felt like using in the game. So you posting the log is kind of odd seeing as how you've known that I can do this sort of thing for a long time, but how often do I ever do it? I can't remember any specific instance of cheating to piss someone off within the last year. The only times it was done before that was to destroy terminals on the BC servers.

Just like your business has to do with being hypocritical, contradicting yourself often and accusing people of cheating because they killed you.

I never said I was trying to end cheating in Renegade. I couldn't give a rat's ass as to what happens to it unless it actually becomes enjoyable. Joining BHS was something I was asked to do because of Codewench and Blazer, otherwise I wouldn't be in it. I contribute my part, do what they ask of me and that's it. I hold no other obligations to them, and I certainly never made any promise that I wouldn't go into servers and fuck with them because they made attempts to harass, intimidate, or annoy me because they knew who I was. Does that even matter now, seeing as how I don't play Renegade and haven't got any intention of touching it unless it gets fixed to be enjoyable?

I don't care if you ban my nicknames from your server. It's not as if you weren't accusing myself and several others of cheating simply because you were killed and would not take "no, I'm not cheating" for an answer. Actually I remember you trying to "guilt people into admitting they cheat" so you wouldn't be accused of banning innocent players, just pestering them with incessant bullshit and lies until they admitted what you wanted to get you to leave them alone.

Did you ever admit to me that you were cheating (when you weren't) just so I would leave you alone ack?

I smell a red herring here.... you have this nice long conversation about how you "created" the PT kill hack, then used it in servers like BC to fuck with them.. I post it, and all you can say is that I bully people?

maybe if I bully you enough, you'll retract your statement about me bullying you.. but wait, that would make me a bully...

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Of course I didn't admit to cheating in your server, because I never did. I wasn't going to tell you "yes I cheat" just to get you to have some legitimate excuse to try and get every server owner to ban me because you didn't like being killed.

Red herring? This discussion isn't being thrown off course, unless you count the fact that you threw it off course to begin with... I'm just continuing what you started by attacking me for absolutely no reason, with no provocation. I notice it works like that too, you find something to bitch about me with, then I post my defense. I never attack you unless you start it with me, odd how that works...

I never created the first one, I just made my own version after hearing about it from Crimson and Blazer. When they talked about people using it in servers, the first thing that hit my mind is "use the BlamoKiller warhead, it destroys everything" on how it worked. I used it in BC, because at that point we were all enemies and I felt like doing something to them for how they were treating my friends. Doing something wrong to them certainly doesn't make my actions right, or correct, in many peoples' views... But in mine, I wanted vengeance so I exercised it.

I'm not calling you a bully. I'm calling you a blackmailer, you can't come out and say someone cheats, you harass them in private and threaten them there... Then, when they try to refute it, you absolutely refuse to believe them. I gave you several opportunities to test my weapon damage, and show you how easy it can be done WITHOUT cheating, but you said "no i wont do your bullshit tests." You also refused to believe that I would not be cheating were I running RenGuard, which sort of makes me wonder why you're running RG at all on the server... You didn't believe it worked then, so why do you believe it works now?

Call it a red herring all you want, you start shit with me and I'll do it with you. If you'd leave me alone, like you used to these past few weeks, you'd notice that I don't bother you at all.

Every time in the past when I asked you if you were cheating you would adamantly deny it. In fact, I distinctly remember you making statements like "Come on, you know me.. I would never cheat"...

Now you admit that you have.. and it puts a whole new light on every time someone has accused you before in The Pits.

How the fuck would we really know?

As for changing the subject? Take a look at the first post again..

Look, anyway you cut it, cheating in someone else's server is wrong. It should end with a cold hard ban and if necessary, the distribution of the IP address and nickname to corresponding servers to add the cheater to the banlist.

But whining about it later isn't necessary. It all reminds me of fucktards like these:

I agree Java, totally. I don't blame BC for having me banned after that. I'm not justifying my actions, just saying that I will do something if provoked.

This is why your argument on "well you cheated before, so we don't know if you will again" doesn't hold water, msgtpain.

If I wanted to cheat, I have admitted that I would do it in a very obvious way. Like killing everyone in the server, from inside a structure, over and over. Destroying everything in the gameplay. I don't need cheats to bolster my ability to play the game. I'm quite happy with how I play, even if I fuck up and don't play well sometimes. I've always been honest about the cheating issue, and if I do cheat I will tell you when and where I have done it. There is absolutely no grounds for the "you did it before, you will probably do it again" accusations. For all I know, you could be cheating in your server... Just because you say that you don't doesn't make me wrong, but that's irrelevant because there is no factual proof that you cheat or not.

I also do not distribute cheats, so don't imply that. Nothing I have made that can ruin the game for others has been released to the public, or to friends. I keep my little gadgets to myself.

I'll sleep much better now tonight, thank you.. Hearing that you won't share the toys which you cheat with makes me all warm and fuzzy inside..

FR players don't bother hiding that they're cheating either... but boy does it fucking piss everyone off when the come in and do it.. I'm glad you're not like them...

What was the point of that, reiterating what you already said before? Just trying to rally behind what I said, that I cheat solely to piss someone off who provoked me?

I rarely use cheats. The only times I use them are to exact revenge on someone. As I said before, no matter how much you follow me around and play your stupid little contradictory games, I still have enough respect for you to not cheat in your server.

no ack, unfortunately (like always) you simply can't seem to read between the lines.. get the point... etc, etc...

To you it's just "revenge".. to 30+ players in a ruined game, you're a fucking asshole..

If you feel it's okay to be a "fucking asshole" to 30+ players who have done absolutely nothing to you, so that you can exact revenge against 1 or two people that pissed you off, well then.. that's about all that needs to be said..

But just so we're not mistaken, and so you don't think that I'm "rallying behind what you said"; I'll simply spell it out: You're no different than the cheaters we're trying to combat; regardless of how much you try and justify your actions.

People DDOS our servers, steal our passwords, ruin our games, kill our FDS's, etc... all because they're pissed at what a few people have done, which they didn't like.. glad you could join the club.

Maybe it's you who doesn't get the point, I never once said I didn't realize that I ruined the game for others when I do that. Maybe it didn't dawn on you that when it concerns people who piss me off, I DON'T CARE... Why? They can go somewhere else, it's simply a game that allows you to choose different servers. Big fucking deal.

Did I say I was different? Uh, no... Red herring! Now you're trying to set the conversation into something that justifies your contradictive posts.

Seeing as how you're acting like an asshole, as usual, I can't blame a lot of people for what they do to your server. You really do seem to invite it upon yourself. If you weren't so quick to but in on things that have little to do with you, I doubt you'd have many enemies at all. I should know because if I didn't attack people for doing things I dislike, I wouldn't have as many idiots hounding me for every post I make. Yet that's a consequence of my actions that I choose to live with.

If you accuse people of cheating, then find every possible way to get under their skin and then find out that they're going to attack you or your server for your own actions... All I can say is boo hoo, asshole... If you did that sort of thing in reality, are you going to tell that guy punching you in the face that he's ruining your bodily health because of a conscious decision you made to pester the hell out of him?

I've had enough of arguing with you, it never leads to anything productive. I'm sure your next post will be like the rest of them, you're just a victim, you never do anything wrong... It's always people attacking you because you're such a nice guy... My ass...

Thanks jonwil, we are on it!

For ACK, well, you were caught pants down! I came here to get help about a hack, not to find out I would have to deal with such slacker. Msgtpain just did its job.

Your frankness is astonishing but how irrelevant is your defense! You can bitch anyone you want, you are lost, end of it.

When I was playing as "ptcz" over a year ago, you were already a notorious suspected cheater. I'm amazed to learn you dropped here, which I didn't realise when I read the log. But I believe your expertise was needed. This I agree is your business, live with it... as we have to live with your kind. Yes, I repeat, your kind. You have cheated before, it's enough to conclude you are busted over the servers I moderate...even if you use RG. Also note that I don't buy "I keep my little gadgets to myself": Your mouth is so big you could fill in 3 Whoppers at the same time...the log proves it!

You know, it's great and all that you don't believe me, but you'll have to ask yourself - are you just showboating, or do you have a real credible case?

There is no inherent logic in "you cheated before, so you must be cheating from now on" OR "you cheated before, so you might do it again." That's such a fallacy, one thing in and of itself does not immediately lead to the conclusion that something else will happen because of it. If I gamble at a casino, and spend $100 on blackjack and get a payout of $1,000... With your logic, I would spend that $1,000 and continue to spend any money I earned until I had nothing left, simply because I did it once.

If I cheat, as I said, it is to exact revenge. Not to go around in every server, going "lollers i pwn u noobs" while destroying everything with a rifle soldier... I have no vested interest in cheating on a regular basis, I do it rarely (speaking in the interval of eight months or more per incident) as a way to get that "I nailed that bastard" feeling. If someone does something to you, and your only choices of action are to do nothing, or hit them where it hurts, I choose the latter. It isn't really damaging, it causes no property destruction nor does it cause monetary loss. It's just a way of going "haha, I can do this and you can't do shit about it" to remove a nagging sense of wanting to kick them in the balls. If I can't do that, I'll do the next best thing.

Surely if someone attacked you in a forum, you would respond in kind. Or say something, right? Just the action of defending yourself could be correlated with cheating in a server whose admins insulted you, or did something to people you care about. So yes, while this is rationalization, it's simply to point out that the action of this stupid insult fest we're having is just as bad as going into a server and cheating - they produce the same result, pissed off people who hold grudges against someone... Just in different methods.

But thank you for the compliment on saying I was a "notorious suspected cheater," since I know that the mediocre skill I held in Renegade allowed people to think I was playing better than I believe I do.

The log proves nothing except that I admit to having things that I will not share.

We don't ban people from the RenGuard network for cheating. We ban them when (and if) they get around RenGuard. He didn't do that, though we certainly do not condone cheating in ANY server.

To Crimson....MY ASS. Sorry I cant find the post to quote you on it directly. You have stated on the Renstation Forum in the Mod section, "I know people that use cheats and you would never find out." You said something very close to those words in the aftermath of Renstation removing RenGuard.

Exactly, I have never attempted to bypass RenGuard (I am clueless when it comes to programming, as I've said many times) and very rarely cheat, and only then to piss off a certain group of people.

PermaGrin, if you want me to have you banned from all legitimate RA servers, sure... It's perfectly acceptable to use it, but be prepared to face the consequences. I knew what would, and will, happen if I cheated and I don't really give a damn. I got what I wanted from pissing off BC and that's why I did it.

Quote:There is no inherent logic in "you cheated before, so you must be cheating from now on"

There is no logic in that, true. Look on another level, it's a matter of trust. If you find out your lover or your friend is cheating you, don't try to find any logic in it.

Quote:If someone does something to you, and your only choices of action are to do nothing, or hit them where it hurts, I choose the latter.

Wrong, there is another solution, quite obvious, I quote you again:

Quote:I DON'T CARE... Why? They can go somewhere else, it's simply a game that allows you to choose different servers. Big fucking deal.

So just go somewhere else. Don't annoy a group of players because of a personal thing you had with someone who pissed you off. As you stated in the logs, some of those players believe the "host" is to blame, which is no fun at all, I've experienced it. They come to play, not to learn what are the latest news on hacks and cheats.

Now I won't post anymore on this matter. I admit you are very interesting, you brought some views that will make me think. But I can't trust you ... which sincerely we don't care. I just hope BHS will take a good decision regarding your acts.

BHS won't do anything to me, first of all, since I don't represent BHS and neither does anyone but the "central leadership" consisting of Crimson, Blazer, and mac. They are the only ones who truly represent BHS as a whole, and if they were cheating I could see your point.

There's a pretty big difference between spouses finding another man to have sex with, and just trying to get back at someone for saying shit to you online. As you well know, a lot of adultery/cheating-on-people has to do with lust, desire for something normally unattainable, etc... It has little to do with trying to piss someone off, that shit normally happens in soap operas. The Internet is a perplexing situation, people can say whatever they want with little fear of retaliation. Some asshole punk can say anything he wants to me, and try to get away with it... If he were here in public, I'd bash his face in. Since I couldn't do that to BC, especially Scrumfy, I chose to do what I could and cheat in their servers. I assure you that the cheating was not done because I'm incompetent at the game. You can check my records at the pits and see I keep a consistent KD ratio of 5.0+, normally 6.0 to 8.0 out of hundreds of games, scoring over 3,000 kills averaged per month... All with RenGuard on. I don't need to cheat to play well.

So yes, I did go somewhere else. They just didn't do the same, felt it necessary to bash myself, Crimson, Blazer, mac, AND RenGuard... So I did what I felt was necessary to give them a kick in the balls. I remember them saying "no one can cheat in our servers," yet there I was, fucking up the Nod terminals with my GDI rifle soldier...

How can you not trust me? I came right out and told you exactly what I did. If I said "I don't cheat" and then proceeded to cheat like a motherfucker I could very well understand why you wouldn't trust me, but hey... To each their own.

zunnieThis 'hack' is VERY annoying. It just disables the PT's for everyone in-game if some n00b joined the game who has it.

I just wanted to clarify that there isn't a file or hack that lets someone join and all the PTs are instantly disabled. It is simply an ammo hack and the cheater has to go and actually shoot at all the enemy PTs.

Again, RenGuard stops this.

Honestly, I don't mean to continue to go on like this.. but out of all the things that have gone on in the last 2.5 years, this "acknowledgement" really left me quite pissed , but also perplexed.. Perplexed at how this company, that is supposed to be at the front of all our problems, making Renegade better (and cheat free) in to the future, would continue to sweep all this type of dirt under the rug and simply "move on".. I know we've had these conversations before.. where does it all end? When the community simply shuts up and ignores it all too?

I mean, come on. You say you are out to stop all cheaters, yet you only care if they cheat on servers using your software? Do your arms of love stop when they finish wrapping around those servers that have chosen to use your software?

We provide you an anti-cheat solution. If you decline to USE the solution, then what else are we supposed to do? How can we care about servers that don't run RenGuard? You have a perfectly attainable solution to cheating available to you free of charge... if you don't use it, then we simply can't help you. I mean, I care about the servers running this game, but we can't help you with a cheater problem if you refuse to use the solution we have created for your problem. I thought this was common sense.

I agree it was really fucking stupid what he did, and I already told him that, but ACK isn't involved in anything BHS except sitting in the private channel talking about the game. He doesn't make any decisions, nor does he develop any of our products, nor does he speak for BHS (only Blazer, mac, and myself do that)... so what difference does this really make?

Either way, mac, Blazer, and I are discussing what we want to do about this.

I really dont know what to say now , because of Aircraftkiller not having intrest in Renegade why the hell are you playing on servers then?

I know you like to get your revenge, but your what? 20 years old, you should damn well act mature enough to ingore certain things in life and move on. I really cant see how anything would get anyone so worked up over the INTERNET... It really makes me wonder what happend to your views of the way things work.

I know you like to push in stories about if you gambled 100 and lost 1000 would you do it again? The thing is this is reality, the game is not. You dont just go cheating to get revenge simply because you dont like the person, i cant understand that at all.

I'm still interested in renegade , and i play it atleast once a week, lately i noticed many people joining with this PT hack, so obviously you shed some light on the others, so they now know what to do and what to change in order to FUCK everyone else over in the servers.

If you have a problem with someone, then talk to them in person, you dont need to dig yourself in a deeper hole then your already in..

(There's a pretty big difference between spouses finding another man to have sex with, and just trying to get back at someone for saying shit to you online. As you well know, a lot of adultery\cheating-on-people has to do with lust, desire for something normally unattainable, etc)

So what your saying , is because its not reality , then that makes it agood reason to get back on people by cheating in their servers and ruining everything for everyone else ingame.

Im sure you must be big and tough like you say, id really like to see you get in a scrap and get your head kicked in, you dont look very tough, and obviously resorting to shit like this, makes you a bit weaker.

Im sorry i know everyone has cheated before, but the fact of the matter is , he was doing it for attention and retaliation, which is bullshit in my opinion.

I dont care who you are, now i can atleast say, i dont trust you either at all, now that this came forward.

You simply state it like it was a joke, you thought it was funny, and you got your kicks and giggles from it, well what about the other 150 people that you ruined the game for? i guess they dont count seeming your pestered with noobs you say.....

Oh well, nothing personal. As other mentioned, it's just about dealing with cheaters and having our servers run smooth so all the players can have fun.

Showing this log here wasn't actually the best place but it had to be done.

So ACK is not in BHS, ok, that's different then. I believe you will have an appropriate action about it. Still, my first concern here would maybe to censor the parts where it is explained which files to modify. Even if RG would stop this type of hacking, please do worry at least for your etiquette, I agree with others who mentioned it.
