My brother Uninstalled Renguard for reason unknown, he then went to play renegade he told me there was a problem with renegade because it keeps crashing the computer everytime i click advanced listings. So i went on the computer and started Ren, Renguard didnt start so i asked did you ininstall rengaurd he said yes(thats how i know he uninstalled it). When Ren statted i went to multiplay etc and clicked advanced game listings, as he said the computer crashed i did this abotu 3 times and everytime the computer crashed. :\ Help?

The problem is the uninstaller doesn't work properly. Choose uninstall then go to your renegade folder and erase the 2 in game.exe. erase renguard.dll, go grab a drink, play renegade.

I cant think of any legit reason why you would wish to uninstall RenGuard actually.

Especially recently its not a good thing to do lol. More and more big servers and also the somewhat smaller popular ones start running RenGuard now.

[zunnie]I really don't think that post was necessary or helpful... what do you care why his brother uninstalled it? Now look what's happened... I made a useless post as well!

My post was very usefull actually.

It stated it is a bad idea to uninstall RenGuard at a time like this while more and more servers start Running RenGuard.

Well, unless you dont wish to play without cheaters for once, then i suggest you carry on.

And yes: You are right, your post was totally useless.
