I know, I know, IE is worthless, but my work computer has it and I can't do anything about it.

Problem:

I can't connect to most sites. I've only been able to connect to a few...here are the ones I can connect to:

<http://www.ugin.net>

<http://www.renegadeforums.com> (obviously)

Ones I CANNOT connect to:

<http://www.comcast.net>

<http://www.google.com>

<http://www.n00bstories.com>

<http://www.absopure.com>

<http://www.fr0zenhost.com>

<http://www.wouldyouhitthis.com>

<http://www.35mb.com>

I'm guessing that I won't be able to connect to many at all.

No fucking clue, but now it works. It was weird, for a period of like 3 hours or so, I couldn't connect to any site but UGIN and these forums.

(bit off topic this maybe)

I use this google toolbar since a few weeks now, nice shit, pops blockups etc.. And concidering im always searching for stuff with google..

It doesnt add any crap features, leaves your IE intact and doesnt install any spyware.

With this program Internet Explorer seems to be quite nicer than it used to be.
