Thier are 2 kinds of cheaters:

Blatant Flamboyant type: Uses FR up the ass, wants everyone to know he is cheating, waiting to be banned.

Smart Cheaters: These sobs are the worst, they cheat just a little bit but try to act as if they are not cheating... e.g. they'll have bighead enabled, but will shoot at your feet, then for a split second shoot your head. You know this because the split second they shot your head feels like you just got snipped rapidly.

Partial renguard is good for getting rid of cheater no.2. If server admins suspect a smart cheater, simply force him to run renguard. The crackhead cheater, simply ban.

I know people are gonna say what about cheater no.1 when no mods are present? That is why we have brenbot and other server manager programs. Almost all of them have some type of voting feature to kick people, use that. Hopefully new version of brenbot will have a 2 hour ban on people that get vote kicked for cheating.

well generally people willing to take the time and download fan maps aren't going to cheat because they know getting banned is not worth it.

Not to mention many of the map based hacks don't work.

At any given time your going to have 10x less cheaters then you would have on a server running regular maps. So no I don't think running RG on fan maps is needed.

I have to appoligize to Alkaline here and a few others who i told to that partial mode is 'gay'.
Sorry i said this, i was wrong, it seems ever since we run half-rg to try it out that more people are joining the server and also DOWNLOAD RenGuard faster than before!
It seems like things go very well with half-rg mode o.O
I never expected it to be like this. So sorry if i insulted anyone saying its gay etc.

Yeah it works well. If you suspect someone of cheating, you just require that he uses RG to play on the server. Then, once enough people have downloaded it, even full RG servers might have lots of players. In my opinion, this kind of slow action works better than expecting everyone to get the program instantly. And we can play in the meanwhile too.

Nope, make everyone run RenGuard... thats the best way...

no need for worry about banning someone who isn't cheating...

Yes, I convinced mac to release the new BRenBot with half-RenGuard support. I think that's what most of you expected RenGuard to be in the first place. I have a graph every 5 minutes of players logged into Renguard and players on RenGuard servers... the number of people on Renguarded servers has been growing by leaps and bounds over the last few weeks.

So when Dante releases something with half-RenGuard support, he is an evil man and an endagerment to the community, but when you do it, its the greatest thing that every happened? Interesting...

Not the same. His didn't kick for all types of cheating and would have been easy to exploit.

Dante's did everything the SSC Protocol said was possible, so if mac's does more, then its completely un-documented.

Is there going to be a release of just the standalone partial RenGuard, so you don't have to use BrenBot?

ssptweekls there going to be a release of just the standalone partial RenGuard, so you don't have to use BrenBot?

This would be really good since most of use are having such a hard time with brenbot that holds this option.

!forcerg is a way to make suspected cheaters use Renguard to play on the server.
