I think Ack is an accomplished Renegade mapper. He also does very well on his skins. But I worship the ground no man walks on. I respect Ack for his talents in an area I tried to pursue and failed. I respect Ack for the fact he takes none of this seriously. But Ack, I may respect your skillz but the attitude needs a little work. Not a flame. Not meant for entertainment purposes. Just letting you know that I really am grateful for the work you do but to me you are just a guy with a skill. Nothing more. You do make some valid points on occasion but I think you are way off thinking you are the "master" of the board. Just my two cents.KP

This thread and the replies are a perfect example of ACK 0wning yu0. He already has slayer correcting people for proving his point...And slayer himself just showed he is controlled by ACK in that reply... Him and I sat back last night and laughed our asses off...You guys are just pathetic.

Scrumfy(what a name),I felt like giving my opinion on the subject because I felt somewhat put off by Ack's comments. It was just me stating my opinion. Now as for you, you have no right to call anyone pathetic. You're what...17-20. Living at home with Mom and Dad or going to college on parent's money. You live to go to school and start sh|t on the forums. As for me, I work running sites for a living. I'm married with two children. I worked my @ss off to put my wife thru college and now she has her Masters.Now, who's the pathetic one? I think I'll just quit replying to the more asinine statements from morons like you. You and your kind are just a little too young and inexperienced to have much to say of any merit. Not all of you, but most.KP

Actually, there, Scrumfy, I'm owned by no one. I'm just giving up on trying to change ACK, so I'm just accepting who he is.

Then Scrumfy, I apologize for my rash statements based upon MY misunderstanding of what you had said. I thought you were speaking of anyone who had replied to this post. I do however find some validity in what you previously said. Those posting in open opposition of Ack should carefully plan what they are saying as not to lend credibility to Ack's statements. Me? I like Ack. Just think he might have gone a little overboard with the "owning" comments.KP everybody is racist once they are exposed to the term racism, if they are born around all different cultures and their parents have no racist problems then generally it will make no difference. I read numerous studies about this, 13/15 said that, but in different words.I dont know it could be true, who knows. I live in Toronto so all of my friends are different race's.
