in the level editor they have a whole bunch of maps that we don't use in multiplayer, but i think they just weren't finished.. here are the names...C&C_BunkersC&C_GlacierC&C_GobiC&C_LavaC&C_MetroC&C_MinesC&C_SandC&C_Snowmaybe these are the maps that are going to come out in the next patch (whenever the patch even comes out)

Gernader8,do not say false informationWW has said nothing about making new maps but it doesn't mean they simply are forgetting about the entire idea!! think those map names were just orginal names for our current maps today. I mean think about the names and the current map names...

There is the terrain of C&C_Bunkers that ACK released. All these terrain are buildable in the level editor as a piece of terrain. there are some other bits too. some of the actual meshes don't exist but their presets still remain. you can make the terrain of all single player levels in the editor without importing a W3D File. Question: the preset for glacier flying is updated to the latest version in the editor. do these presets point to the mix files? [January 20, 2003, 13:18: Message edited by: General Havoc]

E-mail me for permission before you decide to do anything with the map's W3D or anything contained in it.
