Instead of locking the topics, can the moderators please edit the offending posts, no point closing the entire discussion as a few people dont know how to take part in a discussion, and take 'constructive criticism' to the levels of ignnorence and immaturity.

Just a suggestion, thanks!

Yeah, it seems some people post junk in the threads simply because they want to get them locked.

Locking is useful only when the thread has been junk since the start.

If somebody posts junk (spam flames etc), they should get their posts edited, then if offence is repeated, the post is deleted and should get a warning in PM. If the user still manages to commit offence for the 3rd time, that user is banned.

I think everyone should just let her do her job. She's doing an excellent job so far, no reason to change it.

Read through the GDI Hover MRLS thread...if that isn't self-explanatory enough I don't know what would be.

There's no salvaging the thread if the author of the thread goes against the principles that I've tried to establish for this place.

There were a few topics that were locked when they could of been saved, besides the Reborn threads.
