Hello everyone i am a newbie to this.i just installed renegade and am on the level with the submarine in the ship(stowaway).i have found the prisinors found the mate and got the card and freed them.i also got the card to unlock the doors i also made it to the bridge of the ship and i think i shot the captain.i am not sure if he is the captain but after i shot him i picked up a red card.so now i have 3 cards,red,yellow and green.my problem is the i cannot access the sub the womens voice keeps telling me to find the captain and get the card but i think i already did!1any suggestions.the prisinors are standing by the doo tho the sub but i cannot get in.Also another question on the radar what would be the small red dots indicating?i know about the stars but i see 2 small red dots the move around whern ever i move.thanks in advance!!

Okay, sometimes you need to go and look around. If you killed a guy in a red suit that was the captin. Now, go and look for the place the captain use to be in. This always happened to me, as what they do is get you to just go to the location and kill every thing. But since you didn't do it in order the AI is messed up, so go back to the bridge and look for where the now dead captain used to be. Or press E by the sub.

You may have confused the game by doing something that it didn't expect and you will have to replay that level. First try to go where the caption was and see if the game continues.

I've had something like that happen 3 times to me. One of them was, I sabotaged the torpedos before I was told to and then later later on it told me to do it but I couldn't, because I already did it, but the game wouldn't end until I did it. So I had to replay the level.

Got the same problem once. Damn annoying.
