I have no id if this is related to CP1, which i am running and my server. But two people were kicked from my server while noone did !kick !qkick or anything in both irc or ingame. This also happened to me in crazy ctf serv before. Any issues? :rolleyes:

If someone is on WOL and they idle at the game screen where you click start, the game kicks them from the server channel and everyone in the game sees "nick was kicked", even though they were not actually playing. Im guessing this is what you saw.

Actually it's not the people were ingame and playing they all came back and asked why they were kicked but noone did something Like i said before this ALSO happened to ME, I was just playing in crazy ctf and i got kicked whiles noone doing anything. Because these incidents happened after i had CP1 i thought i'd ask here if it's bug related :rolleyes:

its either that they were on the join screen too long, or if you are using SSAOW, it may have been an idle kick.
