You don't see who other users are ignoring. What you're seeing is who you've ignored. Who created the topic doesn't matter.

Exactly =/ I don't ignore people, it just gets confusing when you wonder who everyone is talking to.

I haven't added anyone to my ignore list, but to prove my original point:

any more will take up too much room.

If Dan hasn't added anyone to his ignore list, is this a bug?

YOU have him listed in YOUR ignore list. You may have accidentally added him...so just remove him up at the top where it says Ignore List.
