PM me any download urls you might find, along with any other details you have (e.g who owns the host). Thank you.

Development has been halted until the identity of the leaker can be found.

There was a closed beta released to some people.

It wasn't me this time.

Not cool. I have been waiting a long time for a few quite important fixes. This is just another upset. I hope this leaker/s won't hinder progress much longer.

mac I will do everything I can to help you stop people from getting the leaked beta.

I found out about brenbot 1.36 though Nightma MSN.
Right now I think PistolServ is running it.
Fanmap was running it before the leak so they probably had your permission...

other than that no other server is running it to my knowledge.

What network is PistolServ's brenbot on?

Try !die NOW when you are voiced in it

What's the ip address of that server?

PS: I packaged brenbot 1.36 today. Need to re-package due to a bug. Will add a last minute feature too. Something some of you very much wanted.
