Westwood's password system is still messed up, has anybody noticed they are unable to leave, join, or create a clan since WOL went down?

I haven't used in a couple days. I wouldn't be surprised it was still messed up to the latest downtime. The latest downtime had a lot of password database errors. Many people said they could try to connect but even their correct passworded accounts would be turned away. Chances are the clan system has not been fixed, hopefully it will be...
