I am encouraging the mappers to become involved in fan map day. I feel that the support of the people who actually do the work is essential to making this an even bigger hit. The next day of "Host a new map day" will be Sat. Oct. 12th. I need your help to make this a success. Please respond with any suggestions so that I can relay to the admins of the servers. I would also like your help in participating in a chat to get and give props and helpfull suggestios that the community might make in what we would like to see in the future.Thank You

I agree, I want people to host a poll on their site, where peeps can vote for the best fan maps, and after the poll, those maps will play on their server for a whole week. And after that, another poll. Like a popularity cycle. Awsome.

Problem with polls is that you have to visit that web site. So, my alternative is to have the mappers present their maps and solicit feedback. I am also attempting to have a DL list by the 10th and the server list as well

The most played maps last time were C&C_Glacier_Flying and C&C_DMCenter. I suggest to put them on queue again.
