sum one i know has a few flash animations he wants to put on DVD..

basicly wants to pop a DVD in and be able to play each one does any one know how to convert from a .swf file format to sumthing i could burn on a dvd?

im kinda just guessing at this point...

Well you could go here and see what software they have. They might just have what you're looking for.

Flash > Adobe After Effects (export uncompressed, huge file) > What ever DVD burning software he has.

i can do it, I have many times.
Post or send me the files if you havent done it yet.

MSN: Oblivion165@yahoo.com
Yahoo: Oblivion165
ICQ: 142880863

EDIT: Oh and if he exports them as a .mov in flash, it will turn out better.

im using after effects 6.0..

but when i try to import the .swf it shoots me these 2 errors oblivion i might just let you do it for me in the end..

but if i can figgure out how to do it theres future work/money in it for me lol

i have nero to burn with running win xp not a real expert on adobe AE or flash.. i do have swishmax.. just have yet to take the time to learn anything yet the .swf is 1.4mb..
