Ok i joined n00bstories, and we jest lost are barracks as soon as i joined. so i left. THEN renguard mentions a lan hack or something (lan something). i dont even know what it is talking of,we currently got 3 comps playing renegade on one cable connection, could this be related? Im definately not a cheater...

If 1 of your 3 computers didn't have RG, (especially the one you were playing on), then RG kicks to protect against what is known as the LAN hack. The LAN hack is where someone tried to log one computer into RG, and then play on another computer that does not have RG, in an attempt to fool the RG network into letting their non RG computer (with cheats) play on RG servers.
