Now i know the load screen mentions new maps like Gobi, they all sound good, but I log into game spy like 6 times a day, and I have never ever come accross a server that is using the new maps. So whats the point of having this Cp1 update, the font is poop, no one uses the maps (if anyone knows a server thatdoes run them please let me know) oh and the load screen takes way longer than it ever used to.

The best update I've ever loaded into my C&C file is the naked mode for the girls (though that an only be seen from outside person view) and a cool new look for Havok

There are at least 25 servers running the new maps.

On Gsa, try "renegade community server #1" for example, it runs them all.

Look for CP1 next to server names, it usually means they have new maps running...

also, we have a server just running new maps its called, UNRULES.COM - NEW MAPS gbull we use servermatrix... which is like what everyone else uses... the fds just needs a nice reboot every 2 days.

You bumped an old topic, and replied to someone without even addressing his point (that UN servers and others don't run the new maps).

nobody plays the new maps cause they suck.
Siege is ok, not as good as any of the normal maps
Snow would be nice if artys and mrls cost the same ammount of money
Maps without an airstrip or wepons factory... that's queer Maps where you can buy harvys, also queer
