You get the url of a picture INCLUDING the http:// part. Then you insert the url in between these tags: , so it would look like this:

[img]http://www.thesite.com/directory/picture.jpg[/img]

spazbeastand about the pictures insertion what if its inside my pictures folder could i have the code for that?

It doesn't work that way.

You have to upload it to a webserver. For example, go to <http://www.n00bstories.com> and register for an account there, go to your image uploader and upload the image. Use the picture url and paste the image URL into your post like this:

[img]<http://www.something.com/picture1.jpg>[/img]

It WILL NOT work like this: [img]C:\My Documents\My Pictures\picture1.jpg[/img]

Let's write an internet tutorial for newbies.

"Remember, people actually DO this stuff....and much worse"

Might as well live up to their being sick fucks out there instead of queezing over it. Also about the censored clitoris, the japanese porn industry will do almost anything but it's seen as a crime to show that part of the anatomy. yeah, thought so too.
