whats wrong with the renegade ladder? i looked on my buddy list and all of a sudden everyones rank was gone. and i noticed when i log in my rank hasnt moved and my ladder points havent changed. whats wrong with the ladder cause i know last time it went down everyones ladder stayed the same, not dissappeared.

This happens all the time, I don't have a clue why it keeps happening but it's really annoying I know. just when I'd got 2000 ets. kills and about 900 est. deaths.

I think it might have something to do with WOL going down, when it's back up all ranks seem to get reset.

well i wish they would hurry up because rank is the main reason i play renegade. i like the fact everyone has there own rank.... number wise no like gunbound where ppl are ranked with axes and such. i dont even know of any other games that have ranks,

The WOL ladder is reset monthly. Some servers, like mine, retain their own ladders. Blackhand Studios is also exploring a safe way to run a ladder on all servers connected to the RenGuard network. (safe as in, not easily exploited)

I don't play renegade for rank at all and I despise people who do because it ends up with nobody enforcing teamwork but solo work so they can rack up some kills, hardly anybody cares about your rank so what's the point in trying to build it up?

I personally play the game for fun, I don't give stuff about kills or points and I also despise people who's tactics are camp for the whole game and win on points, play the game how it should be played.

These days I'm not playing a lot of Renegade because of the mass infestation of total idiot solo b00ns.

I play clan matches whenever possible though.
