I was laid off today (on good terms, just my main responsibilities were moved to another department that already does the same thing)... I have a few prospects for a new job, but if you were thinking of donating, now would be a great time since I am the primary financier of the BHS servers, including the RenGuard network.

Thanks.

As of a couple days ago, had a lot of hints. I just didn't want to say anything unless it was definite.

I really appreciate that you are letting me rent my servers through you, because of this I am getting them cheaper, I also use bren and partial renguard on all my renegade servers, aswell as the new scripts that mac released. I appreciate the effort that all BHS team puts into renegade and also the support you offer, without it I would my servers wouldnt be as good as they are.

For these reasons I have just sent $50 to you, I would of liked to send more, but I can't. I hope this helps and I also hope you find a new job soon, one where they appreciate you more.
