Anyone has any clue whats happening on WOL, because it keeps on shutting down, whats going on??? EA is giving birth or something, or is it that EA is getting backshots??

anyone?

anyone?

NVM

Spelling it wrong doesn't really show any real semblance of intellect. Or rather the apparent lack of attempting to spell it correctly shows that. Sure, not everyone knows how to spell every word correctly, and there are keyboarding errors. But stuff such as "u", "r", "wut", "NVM" offer neither as a possible defence.

So, if you WANT to come accross as being someone with a low intellect, then by all means, continue.

Its an abbreviation. There is no need for someone to type out the word when they can type 3 letters. You seemed to understand what it meant just fine. So whats the problem?

I completely agree. As long as you can understand the ideas they are trying to convey, just keep grammar error comments to yourself.

Another post hijacked by aircraftkiller

If anyones even willing to go back to the point of this topic...

WOL has always been jumpy, Ever since EA Games dropped support for Westwood trademarks.

1. WOL has been crap since EA

2 ACK, noone likes you.

3. ACK, stop coming here, just take your leave and stop being an ass to everyone.

No, of course it isn't, he's just making fun of people's work, commenting on people's grammar when he (or she) can read it perfectly fine, and all around being cruel and unusual like that kid at pre-school...

Yes, because we all know... in the real world... everyone spells words such as because and nevermind like this "cuz and nvm"

I can see your resume now.

whining about how much someone takes the thread off topic is not better than taking it off topic yourself.

It'd be nice if half3lif3 would explain a little more though, since I haven't noticed anything strange happening with WOL at all, other than the usual, and RenEvo's rank sigs not detecting ranks even when WOL is up.
