Hi just some questions that i always wondered about

1. Is Renguard for the most part doing it's job in that there is no cheaters in renguard servers (or ppl that use RG) or is there just some few that can actually get through. During the near-anniversary of RG I haven't once seen a cheater who used RG. SO i just wanted to clarify and see what are the odds of people "hacking" renguard and able to overcome it as people sometimes use that excuse way more often than it would seem considering I haven't seen ANYONE cheat.

2. Is it really possible for RG to lag fps your computer that bad? as far as i know MSN or anything else would do just as much.

Thanks and g'day

It's possible that there are a few "bypassers" running around, but wait for RenGuard version 1.04, it will kick ass.

The only time RenGuard is actually using any bandwidth or CPU is when the map first loads, and when you drop files into your Renegade directory. During normal gameplay, if you're not cheating, there's virtually no way it can cause lag.

99% of people who say they know how to bypass renguard are full of it.

A few people have bypassed it in the past but it's been updated and tweaked since then and I haven't seen it happen recently.
