I've never seen him, but I can tell you that he has logged into RenGuard recently, so he must still be active.

renguard doesn't store eMails you best bet is <http://renguard.com/locator.php?q=goodwin18> and when your friend comes on to play ren on renguard that link will show what server he is in. So i guess just chack it alot... try to chack it about the time he used to play.

I am feeling the love on this thread. The crowd stands and applauds the help here.

I don't think it would be right to give out someones email though even if they did have it. You could be a stalker or something. "giggle"

Question; if this was a good friend, you didn't have his email already or have him on MSN, AIM, or Yahoo?

Suggestion; check common Renegade forums like this one and others and see if he is a member. (I am on at least 10 different ones) If so, you can PM him and he is for sure to get an email if he has notify on like most of us.
