I haven't been updated awhile. I use to play back in 2002 I think and I bought the C&C Collection two days ago. And seeing all the change, like the crates and CTF. Who has access to porting Updates to be installed on WOL? Are some of the BlackHand Studios, former Westwood workers? Sorry if I sound dumb...

Technically EA studios run and own the game but Blackhand studios does alot of patches, anti-cheats, and modifications to help the game and it players.

server side add ons would be the reason for the CTF and crates

EA have not done anything for this game except keep WOL up.. barely Blackhand Studios are making a bunch of unofficial addons to the Renegade FDS and game.

Yea them too. Westwood had always wanted their fans to participate in their games not just by playing but by making mods etc.

Nobody "runs" Renegade so much anymore. Seeing as there isn't much to run. Fans make maps for other fans, others make addons and EA keeps WOL up. No seemingly central authority, but we keep things working.

well.. it depends on your definition of RUNS..

cause when i jump on renegade.. i tend to RUN the server.. mofos just start dyin.. bases fall at my feet
they even comit hari-kari when i bend the corner

Rahahaha

Blackhand Studios was formed because of the advice of a former Westwood employee. There is no one left who "runs" the game. It's a combination of BHS/me who runs the official forums, BHS who makes and operates RenGuard and Core Patches, and of course all the server owners who maintain a place for us to play, and oftentimes come up with the innovative ideas that keep things interesting.
