:/ Today, the power went out while I was playing renegade, so I went and ate lunch. Then after the power came back on, I turned on my computer, and clicked on Renegade. Then Renguard came up and I clicked the Renegade button. After that my comp was being slow, and I thought that Renegade might not have come up or something. So I clicked Renegade again, and another Renguard started up. It said, "Unauthorized Renegade Instance terminated." I was like, OK I just wanna play now. So I clicked the Renegade button in Renguard, and then the Renconfig thing comes up. Wth? I kept trying and Renconfig kept popping up. I even tried to open Game2.exe in the renegade folder, and it still popped up. I had a backup of the game2.exe, and I put it in there, and Renconfig STILL popped up. I have no clue what is wrong, could someone help me?

:/ Crap.

Sorry for this post, I just hit ok on the renconfig and Renegade popped up. So my problem is solved.....

I feel retarded now.

lol, no probs mate.

Best thing to do before seeking assistance is to resolve the problem/error yourself in any shape or form you can.

Try not to give up too early and you will eventually learn from your mistakes and build on them.
