Hi there!

As Renegade seems to die slowly but constantly, I wondered how many active players are still out there?

Any idea, boys and girls?

Well, the number of active players currently playing renegade can be calculated by a simple mathematical formula:

$X^3 * Y / Z^X$ . Where X is the time of the day, Y is the number of the month, and Z is the number of good shows there are on TV at the given time. Now, I don't know exactly how many boys AND girls play renegade (as you're asking your question to be answered.) This is a trick question.

Assuming the ratio of girls to boys playing renegade is < or = to the ratio of good looking girls to unemployed queers at a mall at 10am on a wednesday, it's pretty simple. Simply divide the total number of players by 73 and there, you have the number of girls playing renegade.

Don't ask, I'm bored.

We reach a daily peak of near 1000 players just on RenGuard, so I would say the game is far from dead.

"Dead" is maybe too hard.

But one can't say the community is getting bigger...

Thousand a day? So maybe much more than 3000 Thousand.

If a "normal" player locks in 2 or three times a week...

Edit says: Maybe its another thing in the States. I was looking for a LAN in Germany and the last one was in 2003... A pity it is.

Thanks Icedog. Thats way more, than I thought.

So looking at in, let's say in half a year will show a tendency.

Don't get me wrong, I won't Renegade see dying. Especially because it's the only online game I play (find lots of the newer ones too hectic). I was just preparing, that it might end in the near future.

Maybe a higher force is on our side that will make Renegade exist always and forever.

Icedog: So every plaer with a Westwood account should be listed?

Or I am getting it wrong? I am not in this list, not even one of my 3 nicks made it in there. Why?

Sure, why not?

On GSA there are about 100-200 people on every day.

23,000 raned on WOL more then 1/2 are the same user with more then 1 name.

The # of active players would depend on day of the week and time, curently there are atleast 390 WOL(and that's only on USA server) and about 60 GSA players. So there are about 450 ppl playing renegade right now.

Well if you take a look at someone who has a rank of, oh lets say, 13000, which my freind has a rank of 13503, that means 13503 players have played renegade. Maybe not that many daily, but that many still play.

deadfivethat means 13503 players have played renegade. no that means there are 13002 accounts witch could belong to only 3000 users having 4 names each. I few months back I played on 4 names and was ranked 190, 2000, 5700, and 8400. There is a large number of players that have multiple accounts.

The only thing you can go by is players currently in game now.

Renegade maybe an old game and compared to other games (which are actively supported by their creators) there are less players.

There are still enough players around i think though

Go on WOL yourself, list the servers in players filter. I'm guessing no more than 100 players. Go on GameSpy yourself, list the servers in player fliter. I'm guessing no more than x.

The simply add  $100 + x =$  number of current 'active' players at that time.

Bare in mind, people don't have to be playing RenGuard to play Renegade, they could simply leave it idle which most probably do.

There have been over 20000 Downloads of CP1, and about 4000 unique users connecting to RenGuard every day.

I estimate there is a userbase which is about 20000-30000 people

Every player that has an actual rank on WOL.

DidN't play on WOL for about two months, so the others must be way better....

Must be the reason why I am not listed, even at locking in, no rank is shown.

So, my fault.

maamloos: It will become like Starcraft....., only insiders are pllaying it!

noodlesl was looking for a LAN in Germany and the last one was in 2003...Surf to <http://www.interclan.nl> in Holland, there are much Renegade players. Search with GOOGLE or contact me via Email. I have some links to LANs, but the most played game is Counterstrike BAH....

icedog90There are currently 20,330 ranked players on WOL.And how many accounts are regularly in use? There are much dead accounts where the ppl forgot their Passwords. me included with approximately 10 accounts. I noticed all in a Word document now

Naamloos: There are really enough maps to play on! Don´t think that´s all Unrules got on the servers! I think the most of us have much fanmaps, Elite in this forum? but the most players out there only have the Westwood and maybe the CP1 maps..... :rolleyes:
