Another question: Is there a way for me to open a map (eg Under.mix) and edit it?

That's a human path find generator thing... Place it and generate sectors so the AI "knows" the terrain better.

There are 2 ways to edit existing maps, 1 is by downloading the lvl files. And 2 is by using just the W3D terrain files that are already inside Level Edit.

You better use the last option if you need to have them since the lvl files are messy.
