Shaun didn't do anything. He just renamed some files. Wow, amazing.

:rolleyes:

Map "skins" are gay. They destroy the vision the author had of the map.

Don't think so, as the wall and the mountains etc. would still be Opaque.

Nope glass won't work and it doesn't. The reason is simple, the mesh you applying it to needs to have properties set so that it can be transparent. Strangly enough the game lets you replace ridiculous stuff, like weapons projectiles the size of a mammoth tank (trust me, don't try it). Most stuff can be skinned, it is possible to skin something like the Infantry Barracks which looks good if you skin it right.
