/Ban Deadfive

Yeah no one will ever want to sit through that load everytime they visit your site. When it comes to the actual site, it looks ok, but the photoshoped headers are horrible.

My prediction:

Total hits at the end of the month 5.
And 4 were you.

All I do is post a topic about my new Renegade website and all I get is a bunch of smart ass remarks. It's impossible to do anything just for FUN and get it ruined by a bunch of inconsiderate jerk offs. This world is going to hell.

Why over time? I put the in for a reason...

Oh, and it loads like a broken shotgun in Firefox too. At least for me.

Site looks like it's for RA1

And 2 minutes loading? What are you talking about, it loaded in 10 seconds.

LOL - I'm not a web designer & I normally don't criticize novice work, but that site needs some work dude...! I'm sure it's functional, but it needs some major cosmesis...& start w/ the banner at the top, it's pixelated to hell.

Its just a bunch of frames with oversized borders.
Also, the only working image is the totally oversized pixelated banner.

It needs alot of work.

Oh Lord. I can't say anything nice, so I won't.

But I will say that if you are going to plaster "Learn about RenGen Corperation.TM" over your website, make sure you spell Corporation correctly, that you are an actual corporation and that you register that trademak (although I'm not sure what is being trademarked).

Not bad for a begginer. But it need alot of work. Check out glydes and learn to use Photoshop and Dreamweaver. Glydes looks very professional and thats what you want to shoot for when creating a site. And make sure all of your images are very clear without pixelation. Im sure you'll get better, show us again after you work on it. and for photoshop tutorials to help you out go to <http://www.good-tutorials.com> and i suggest if you have any problems go to <http://www.apocmedia.com> to judge and give you suggestions before you use them for your site. Site building takes practice, but its pretty rewarding when you learn to do it well.

Just remember, if someone wanted to report you, you'd get into quite a bit of trouble for displaying yourself as a registered corporation, without having actually registered.

Besides, "RenGen" is the popular shorthand name for RenegadeGenerals.com, owned and operated by Transnote. I don't think it's up right now, but it will be back.

Basically, if you have Inc., Ltd., Corp., Incorporated, Limited, or Corporation at the end of "business" name, you are presenting yourself as a registered business.

I only brought it up as a warning for what "could" happen.

uhm, the loadbar thing sucks...whats the point I loaded 2 pages and then closed it because it was so annoying...

the page transitions....what were you thinking, just have standard page changing, its faster that way.

you are trying to put as many features as you can code in, but in reality less (code) is more (quality!).

oh, and html is easy...i been writing html code since i was 8 :rolleyes: (admittedly wasnt really good html code, but it worked)
