Okay, now I need something to do with my website. Flaming won't help.

Since no places I know would ever rent a PC game, I need some help writing the PC reviews for my site. Now, since console games are fairly easy because of their vast availability and rentability (I know it's not a word), I don't need help with this, I'll get my other friends to help. But, I know that a lot of people here play PC games, and a couple of reviews would be nice. Criteria, anyone?

[list]

[*]Rating out of 5

[*]Try and make it longer

[*]Screenshots, anyone?

[*]Please send it in a .doc, .rtf, or whatever, I'll be the one to make it HTML.

[*]This is not a giant flame game war, it's a review, but you can put your opinion in too

[/list:u]

Thanks, if you help. No thanks to the members that will spam the thread saying how they won't help.

Why not do older games as well? Classics are often times the most fun to play (ie. C&C, RA, etc...).

I wrote up a Renegade review for my site a while back that I think is pretty accurate, at least to me. . . It's complete with the storline, background on the Dead 6, Nod GDI, etc etc. . . Just PM me if you want it.
