I saw this a while back. This is why you do not post your pictures on the interweb, unless your an SA forum goon and then it's mandatory.

Would it be polite to photochop/flash community members? :twisted:

The fact that Reborn sucks is merely your opinion Ack. I could say RenAlert sucks, but then again, no-one would take a blind bit of notice because after all, you are the god of Renegade whom we must respect because you wasted so many hours of your life making maps for the game. All hail god.

So hows RenAlert coming? Still switching game engines? Alls I've seen from your team is renders, nothing more.

Nub isn't "slang" because it's a word with an actual definition that does not have anything to do with a variant of n00b.

Looks photochopped, the ducks are blurred but the road is sharp, i haven't taken a close look, but there are tell tail signs around the ducks.

This will make everyone feel better. It's the monkey truck, and it never fails.

That gives out most of the evidence. The lighting on the feet doesn't blend well into the environment, same with the shadows. I could go even deeper with the shadows if you like, but I think this tells enough.
