I've created a new site which allows users to find haunted places in their area. But I need some help for it to grow. If you know of any places that are said to be haunted in your area, submit the place, and perhaps investigate it (upload some pictures).

Even if you don't believe in ghosts (I don't necessarily do), it's neat to see the pictures that people post, and the stories that they share.

The site is: <http://www.haunted-index.com>. If anyone wishes to help moderate, create graphics/layouts, anything, let me know.

(PS: Let's keep my past out of this. I've grown as a person, if you know what I mean.)

If you want I can integrate your forums and website so instead of having it so the articles are posted on an actual webpage instead of a forum.

I'd rather have it this way. When you register you are registered on the forums as well, I wouldn't want the places to be on there. That's simply a place for people to discuss whatever's on their mind. However, don't hesitate to register... Please?

Yes, just watch:

I'll have sexual intercourse with the next person who registers!!!111

I thought you wanted people to register, not scare them away.
