Nice, expect "Theory" is a bit hard to read. Maybe I just need a SickOptometrist...

Second pic is fine.

They look pretty good. I know this isn't really relevant, but here's an idea I had for a cd cover:

SickO, those new ones are awesome, but the first you showed fit better IMO.

It's just a fucking joke. Cowmisfit, once again, has overreacted and has taken it as a serious threat. Cowmisfit also claims that I will never change and that I will never run a business because I feel that I should keep my forum members safe from being attacked while making my staff members ignore it or delete it.

heh lemme see if i can remeber fully.. using Photoshop CS

2 ways you can.. i just use both and bleand them

Black and white

Filter> Render> Clouds>

then Filter> Distort> Glass

Distortion 20
Smothness 1
Texture Tiny lens scale 50%

that would give you this..

Style 2

Filter> Render> Clouds>

Filter> Add Noise
Check Monocromatic
Gaussian Distribuiton
About 100%

Then Filter> Distort Glass
Distortion 20
Smothness 15
Texture Frosted
scale 200%

and that gives you this

Stack the layers and play with the layer lighting to get different effects

use Image>Adjustments>Brightness/Contrast - use as needed and mess with Image>Adjustment>Levels add/remove Blacks and Grays as u want

SickOptometristStill workin'...Yeh or neh?
{images}

Nope, you've fallen into the trap of over graphicalisation. It took a moment to actually read what they're saying -- You need to tone down on all this fancy stuff and make the banner good, but a lot simpler. Fancy writing and that grid stuff doesn't better the image.

Yeah - the green grid design I despise - it was a band members pushing that gave rise to that one...

Latest design for CD covers -
