Can anyone help me?

I downloaded it, pops up Game2.exe already there yadda yadda. I have tryed a couple of things, but i dont kno what to do! any help in this situation would be GREATLY appreciated! thanks.

Ill Explain more clearly, I downloaded reguard once, then i had to delete renegade thanks to the game Tiberian Sun. So when i installed renegade again, RenGuard was NOT popping up liek usual, so i tryed to find teh renguard file itself, no luck, when i try and download it, it says Game2.exe file already existent and then it closes.... Mac, Kazenor, i have been reading your posts and would like your help personally, please post back with an idea or even better a solution. :oops: :oops:

** Do NOT use HTML code on the forums, thank you **

dude, thats some hot shit right there. I didn't think iframes worked on this forum.

anyway, what you should see there is your renegade folder. if there's a file there called game2.exe, check its size. if it's about 300 to 400 kb big, delete it. do NOT delete game.exe. once you deleted it, check for files called renguard.dll and bhs.dll. if you find them, delete them too.

then, try to reinstall renguard.

edit: ok I'd like to ask. does that iframe work on your (the viewer's) computer? it doesn't seem to be working here, but the website I got the code from won't have it work either, and it usually works.

Yeah, but I'm sure ALL IE users had their Renegade start up. I use Firefox so it didn't affect me.
