Ban him unless Crimson can keep him out all together!

Dude came in to ruin a good marathon game. I should know better than to go into Xil server.

Either he is cheating, or he is being sarcastic. But who cares, renegade is old. It is filled with hackers and n00bs. There is no point in complaining when you have had about 4 years to complain. Now it is too late because Renegade will soon be dead when the Renegade community dies. Many people are saying how Renegade is "getting boring". People are leaving and as someone said most of the people buying the game are 12 year olds going "mom look at this cool game in the bargain bin!"/ And almost half of the people here in the forums don't play Renegade anymore, including me. But I guess there are those who do care about these sort of topics. But hey, you will never stop hackers in Renegade, there are too many and not enough people to care. "THIS IS JUST MY OPINION"

And a very negative one at that. You seem to still be reading the forums actively for a dead game. But thanks for the thought! lol

I still like the game and have not gone anywhere. This was a player that was cheating and not hiding his/her identity. Since this is the Renegade forums and space is cheap, I thought I would just let other owners know that read this.

Other than that, nothing to add.

Your not the best at finding real cheaters are you?
Arent you the guy who banned me for cheating on one of the servers your moderating on?
Without even asking me for a test ore anything you just banned me, if so Hi n00b.

Says the guy who not too long ago made a site called "RenGen" and bought a server to put on Renegade.

My my, these grapes are SOUR, ain't they.

It doesn't really matter, he was obviously cheating; destroying vehicles in one shot, etc.

Deadfive - If you've got something totally negative & noncontributory, then please say it elsewhere. Wyld1 has been around since the early days & if something bothered him enough to post here about it, then it should be heard. There are still many of us who realize games "get old" & lose their novelty with time, but we still like to play & are annoyed by the cheaters. Renegade doesn't all of a sudden become "sucky" as you have stated in earlier posts. It's an excellent game with many merits lacking by all the other present "leading brands". If you're bored with it, congratulations- you've conquered the addiction. Move on. Oh & fix that damned banner!

That was not meant to be negative in any way. But I guess it came out that way. Sorry. And to DaveGMM I never bought a server, I run my own.

It's funny because deadfive acts like he's been playing for years, when some of the posts I saw him make, made him look like a 7 year old

My opinion is that I personally don't think he has been playing for years. He's seen a few people say it, and he is echoing what they said.

I respect all opinions, but I have been playing for quite some time. I may not act like it, but that's me.
