w00t

I just got back from Wal-Mart, my bro and myself both got ATI 9500 256 mb Graphics cards for our computers, Mine currently is a 64 MB MX440 piece of shit. So yea, im gonna go install those right now

I also just found out i have two new baby twins in the family, born on the same day as myself and my twin bro were born 17 years ago, w00t w00t.

I could go and buy a 6800 if I wanted but I'd rather spend the money on some drumming equipment.

ATI 6800? Ive got a 7000 in my 98, and one thats equal to a 8600 in this one. I can just barely play Halo. Wish i could see all the Armor colors, though.

ATI doesn't make a Radeon 6800.. he's referring to nshitia. And happy birthday, cow!

All is that it kicks ass lol. I thought my CS:S and HL2 were great before on my other computer, now they're absolutly amazing, its full throttle as far as you can go, everything on highest levels no lag.

As for this computer, im about to put its new card in here in about 15 minutes after bro is done with a DoD match so he can help me Cary it downstairs.
