Why dont you people get it? If they add things like spectater mode, no vech limit, flame thrower upgrades, pistol loaded already for you etc. and things thatwould affect the game itself, would mean that only renguard users could play. Not everyone will want to get reneguard. NOt jsut because they could be a cheater... Its too complicated

I agree that making things that require client side downloads to play on the server are bad, however things like spectating, no veh limit(not "truely", but there are workarounds), and possibly having a loaded pistol can be done server side.

client downloads are teh suck IMO if they require them to play in the server, however total conversion mods are cool. Mainly because it would mean an empty server, people only wanna seem to download porn these days (not that theres anything wrong in porn). But allot can be done server side.

Yeah, you. This is the Core Patch 2 forum, not the Renguard forum.

but if you read the top post he says " would mean that only renguard users could play" when hes actually talking about client side downloads such as CP2, which is not specifically for RG users.

The server owner chooses to implent which feature he wants, so basically play on servers which you like. This is the same with Rengaurd.
