Remove your old installation of renguard first, and then reinstall.

You had it installed before and the installer recognizes that.

Check C:\Westwood\Renegade and see if it contains any files and check for a file called game.exe

If you are unsure post a screenshot of the directory and we can have a look.

You should also delete any other big beacons, big c4, big heads, and anything else big which you might have...

Can you not read?

You were disconnected from RenGuard (and thus, the server tells you to install RenGuard) for having an illegal "game2.exe". Game2.exe is your C&C Renegade executable. Reinstall C&C Renegade and do NOT install your hacked version of C&C Renegade. If you need a no-CD patch, then be absolutely sure that you use this one!

Download <http://www.multiplayermaps.net/pafiledb.php?action=download&id=332> and run the file. This will replace the corrupted game2.exe - If you dont have anything else wrong you should be able to play.

While we are on the topic of No-CD patches, could someone tell me if the one from MultiPlayerMaps is the same No-CD as the one that =HT= hosts on their website (www.HazTeam.net)? I use the one from the HT website and it works fine with RG (I have NEVER had RG trouble due to the No-CD patch...)
