Hello,

my name is trooprm02 and for the longest time I have been looking for a FDS Serial!

I have arranged to create a 75(maybe even 127!!) player aow server. And my friend down in miami is also hosting, and he says its virtually lag free! The server will run 24/7 and will be moderated by clan members, and a bot at irc(language filter, kick ilders etc...)

In return for the serial I can make you a full-moderator, or you have full access to my services(Im a professional webpage designer/programmer)

Anyway, If you would like to see this server up, please pm me a woking serial.

Thanks, and wish me luck

No. You do realise that 127 is just a tad to many for Renegade to manage, dont you? And unless your using GSA, and paying for the server to be listed in GSA, your gonna have alittle trouble trying to more than, i believe it was 16 people, to join. Have fun with that.

Well, I will be listed on gsa, put I wont pay for it(I have a hook-up) And the 127 is not confirmed, right now I'm Staying with 75. But even 127 is not a problem, if you have ever played on the new all-out you would know.

Anyway, still looking for serial,

Yeah, i try to avoid AOW servers like the fuggin plague. See, i have this thing about having to many uptight people in one game, that kinda keeps me out of em. Considering the fact that the AOW people, or atleast most of them, think that they are all gods. I bet you, that 9/10 times, someone that plays nothing but AOW wouldnt stand very much of a chance on a regular server, like Unrules New Maps, or even Unrules CP1.

Okay. This is slightly off-topic, but Lijitsu. Disregarding the "official All-Out War modification," what's the different between "normal" servers and the ones specifically marked "AOW"? I figured the all-out war servers just meant that literally anything goes as far as Infantry and Vehicles.
