That's not a renguard problem, you need one of those lan exploit patches on your server.

I'll look for a link owoserv1? Why does that name sound so familiar. . . I think. . .hn. Feels like I've either played on the server that nickname hosts, or I've read about him somewhere before.

The cheater is probably using the nick exploit.

Someone (Silent Kane, if I remember correctly) wrote a fix for it. Use the search feature.

Actually, I remember now. owoserv1 is generally the OWO Cops and Robbers server. However, last night, I saw that that particular nickname was not only ranked with 9666 points(I believe), but was in another server(by the name of "owoserv1", which was its name, not who was hosting it) with 12/13 people, but when I clicked through, it tossed me into the Cops and Robbers server. Furthermore, the server "owoserv1" didn't even exist on the server list! What the Hell?

I'd just as soon go to the original thread and download it from there... nopic isn't the most trustworthy person, and downloading and attaching the file to his post means it could have been tampered with.

The original Nick exploit fix thread is here:

this guy?

he joined my server and was playing seemed decent. then left only to come back (about 3 mins later) to have over 10000 points and over 60 kills 8 deaths....

when i told him for a test he left then rejoined....
hmmm interesting....
