Even I am getting tired of the things going on in these boards now. There is no reason for a bunch of pinheaded morons to call themselves "e-terrorists" and run around ruining every thread they can find. Even back when the forum was first started, way back in 2001, this place didn't have people dropping to that level of idiocy.

So with this happening, this place doesn't generate amusement or entertainment anymore. If I can't find this place funny, there's something seriously wrong. I'm really not one to bitch about things like this or contradict myself, but I'll make an exception here for our "e-terrorist" buddies:

Jball430: I barely know you, but I do know you have more sense than to start up these stupid things so that you get the members to turn into groupies. Nothing these forums ever organize does anything but annoy people or fail horribly. Case 5 Studios (Anyone remember that Seth guy?), "renevo", and a few other groups - they're a good example. This e-terrorist shit is just another notch in the huge walking stick for the Renegade Public Forums. Cut it out and find something better to do with your time, like make this place worth visiting for laughter again.

Gbull: I don't know you, I don't care to know you, and I don't like you. From what I've observed you just can't get a clue and you end up following whatever is going to get you Internet friends. For being the big bad football player you make yourself out to be, one would think you'd have something better to do with your time than run around and mess a game forum up.

Lijitsu: You came here early this year and still can't figure out that being a complete assclown with no sentence structure will not get your posts acknowledged as much more than the ramblings of a semi-intelligent child.

RyuKishen: You come here in July and think you know how this place works, and that instantly trying to fuck it up will somehow make you entertaining. You are not entertaining. Your writing is not funny and your antics are not amusing. If you could step back for a moment and see yourself as others see you, without throwing in something about how you finally fit into a group in life when you got the chance to be an "e-terrorist", you'd see why you're such a fucking attention-starved idiot. It wouldn't be anywhere near as bad if you made me laugh when I read your posts, and I find it easy to laugh at a lot of things.

DJM: How did you even get caught up in this? A while ago I thought you had some kind of common sense, but then after a bit I remembered that you were the shit-for-brains that went to a server and bitched out the administration there, then whined here when you got kicked for breaking their rules. So let me rephrase this little commentary about you: I know how you got caught up in this e-terrorist shit, you're an idiot and you probably couldn't help trying to find a way to make yourself look worse than you already do.

The rest of you "e-terrorists", assuming there are any more: Go into a chat room, knock your heads together like you usually do, and collectively pull your heads out of your asses. If your aim is to destroy the forum and make people less likely to visit it (I don't take kindly to motherfuckers trying to take my job from me), you're doing a really good job. If I find it hard to look at this place during the time I'm online, then this is really going down the shitter.

Congratulations, or whatever.

We've done at most 4 topics. Stop acting like every post on these forums is taken off-topic by us.

Actually, we have had many people say that they were entertained by our work. Look at nopic's "shirt 4 my sister" post. We SAVED him from the amount of flaming he would have received.

Like I said above, many people have said that they enjoyed what we did.

Our aim isn't to destroy the forum. We actually are trying to teach spammers not to spam. They post useless topics, we hijack the thread, and make it our own. Make it entertaining (even though you disagree) until it gets locked.

Also, cmatt, speak English please.

Just because you spent 4 minutes on it, doesn't mean that it's the English language.

Also, Aircraftkiller, we haven't hijacked any threads since Crimson told us to stop. You and the rest of the idiots who are complaining about us are a little late Damned newbies...

Rofl. Brilliant!

And AircraftKiller, you may notice I have respect for you. I spell your name properly and I like how you can wind up all the 12 year olds.

I whinged about KOSs yes. I still stand by my point that being kicked for sarcasm was lame but what I did after wasn't the best of ideas. I just like winding people up. I still do, easy comedy.

I like to think I've grown up since then at the least. I'm not going to say how we apparently "save" topics. From my point of view, we just turn a worthless topic into something even more worthless so hopefully it gets closed.

On the other hand, I am starting to agree that it's getting kinda boring.

I knew it'd be only worth shits and giggles for a couple days. I had no doubt in my mind that the novelty of the idea would wear off and the overall immaturity of the group would take off and completely ruin any point to the group (if there even was one). What can I say? It was a Friday night with nothing to do. We annoyed some fucktards, so I guess the time wasn't a complete loss.

If you don't want people to come here, just leave. It's really not that hard to do. We, (unlike you) actually might still like the game. Please stop Trolling these forums.

If you guys let Ack persuade how you act after everything he's done in here for the last 3 years, that's pretty sad..

We don't. Have you seen me attempt to hijack any more threads? No. One reason is I was gone for four days. Another, is the fact that I just thought it would be fun for a day or two to hijack a thread, and not get flamed by everyone on the forums. It seems that that will never happen, since I've been flamed by nearly everyone on these forums. AK was one of the final five or so. The only people who haven't flamed me so far, that I know of, are the other people who hijacked the threads.

In response to AK's remark: You can't blame me for anything other than the first two threads hijacked, one of which was deleted. The topic "whoa" was our first strike, and Lunawolfy's topic was the second. After that, I didn't help to hijack, or attempt to hijack any. While I agree that the thread hijackings were rather ignorant, it was all in good fun. See how many pages we got out of the topic "whoa"? See how many posts were mine? About sixty, max.

In response to AK's remark about my poor grammar: Whoop-ty fuggin do. Wow, I say words that aren't in the Yankee language, or in any dictionary! Who fuggin cares? Wow, I censor myself by saying the word "fuggin" instead of the word "fucking"! I do this because I got tired of saying that, and hearing it. I don't talk like that anymore, I've cleaned up my language. I can talk freely, so I got tired of saying "fuck" at everything and everyone, and moved on to a more censored word, and a more censored form of speech. Wow, I have a poor sentence structure! If this is true, than so do you. You may be referring to the first few hundred posts I made, where in I had horrible grammar and spelling, but you can't say that about my posts now.

I have a much better vocabulary, and type as correctly as I can. Think I should do better, because I'm 13? Guess what. I left school in the 3rd grade, so I didn't get all that sentence structure education, and I forgot how to write in cursive.

You say we need to clean up these forums? How about we start with you? You've been nothing but a thorn in our sides since you've gotten bitter. Once upon a time, you liked Renegade. Once upon a time, you attempted to assist people in making maps. Once upon a time, you were smart. You've always been intelligent, AK, but you lost being smart a long time ago. About the time you started saying things like "Get better games" and "Stop making maps for an old game". Apparently you suddenly forgot about money. Not everyone is blessed by the money tree. Not everyone shits money. Not everyone is old enough to get a job, to make money. Some people are even poor. I'm all four. Im poor, too young to get a job, I don't shit money, and I'm not blessed by the money tree.

I will repeat two famous lines. You decide which of the two fits you best, and follow it.
"Shut up and Mod."

Or:
"Get a life."

I will do that for them. All I saw the 'e-terrorist' thing as was a message to me and the other moderators here that we were allowing unwanted bullshit to be posted here. That opinion is fine, and warranted given the situation.

The part I didn't appreciate was the 'vigilante justice' going on. I don't know why formerly positive contributors all of a sudden felt justified in padding their post count (which is serious business, you know) with garbage...

Basically, I'm glad this little fad has run its course. If you have a problem in the future and you want to collaborate on a solution, try to think of something more productive and approach me publically or privately about it. I would have thought you guys would know that I respond to it... just ask Hydra, Nightma12, and RenX who were JUST promoted to solve a problem that was brought up by Joseph Collins.

I really would like this to be the last word on this matter, so I'm closing the thread.
