I'm one of the poor saps that can't use the BHS.dll files from jonwil. However, I would like to have the Client_Log that is produced from those files. Is there anyway I can get the client log to work without using the BHS.dll 2.1 or whatever?

Damn it, I have 3 different computers with 3 different operating systems and they all crash with that BHS.dll,
Damn it.
